Phase Two of Learning Transcends Basic Education

Lakeview High School is more than just a schoolhouse. Equal ingredients of work and recreation are necessary for total education. A student learns not only from the six-hour daily class routine but is enriched and refreshed through after-hour happenings.

Sailboat skills are learned on Goguac Lake, a young couple discovers autumn, and the principal, a true sportsman, gets needed relaxation fishing for trout on the Little Manistee.

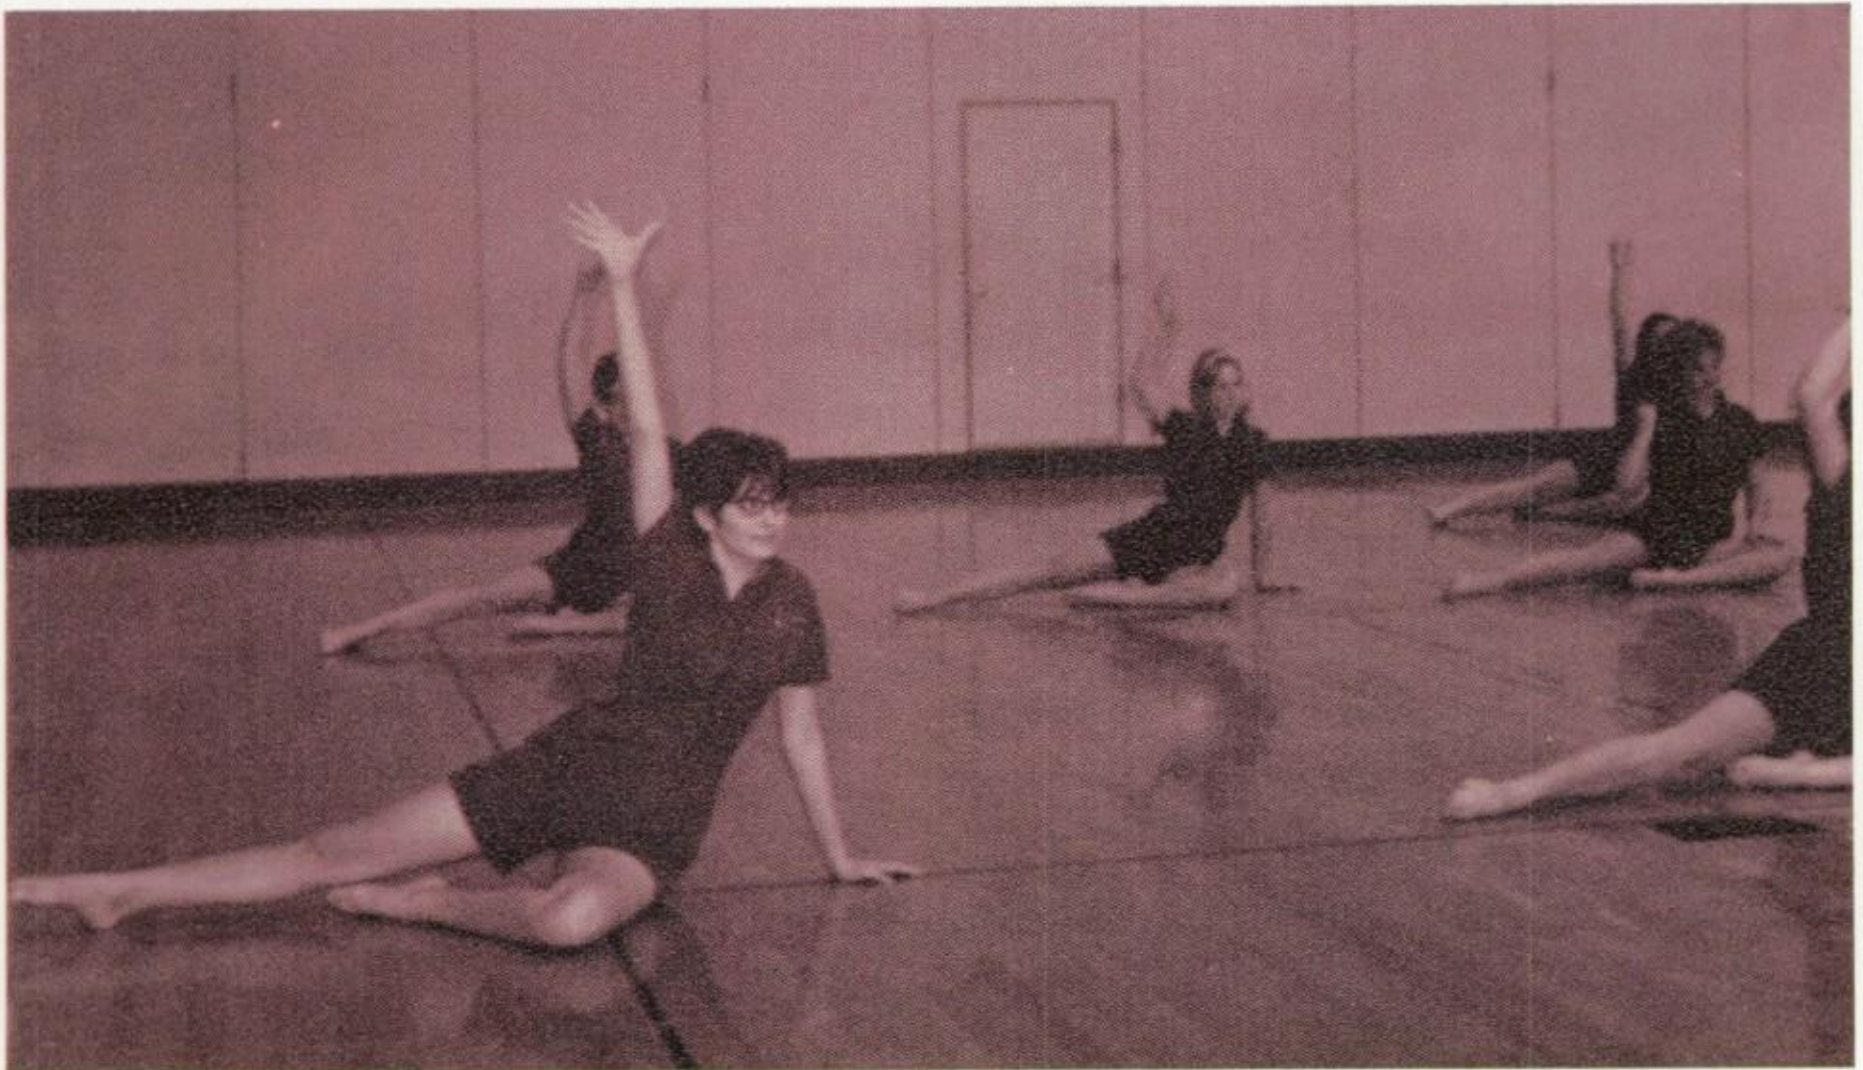

Unique Classes Captivate Inquisitive Students

Providing students with a top notch education is Lakeview's foremost purpose. Unique, interesting, and varied courses are designed to meet the interests of the individual.

The dramatics class presents plays such as "My Fair

Lady", home economics courses prepare girls for home-making careers by teaching sewing skills, and physical education classes develop muscular co-ordination and athletic ability with modern jazz.

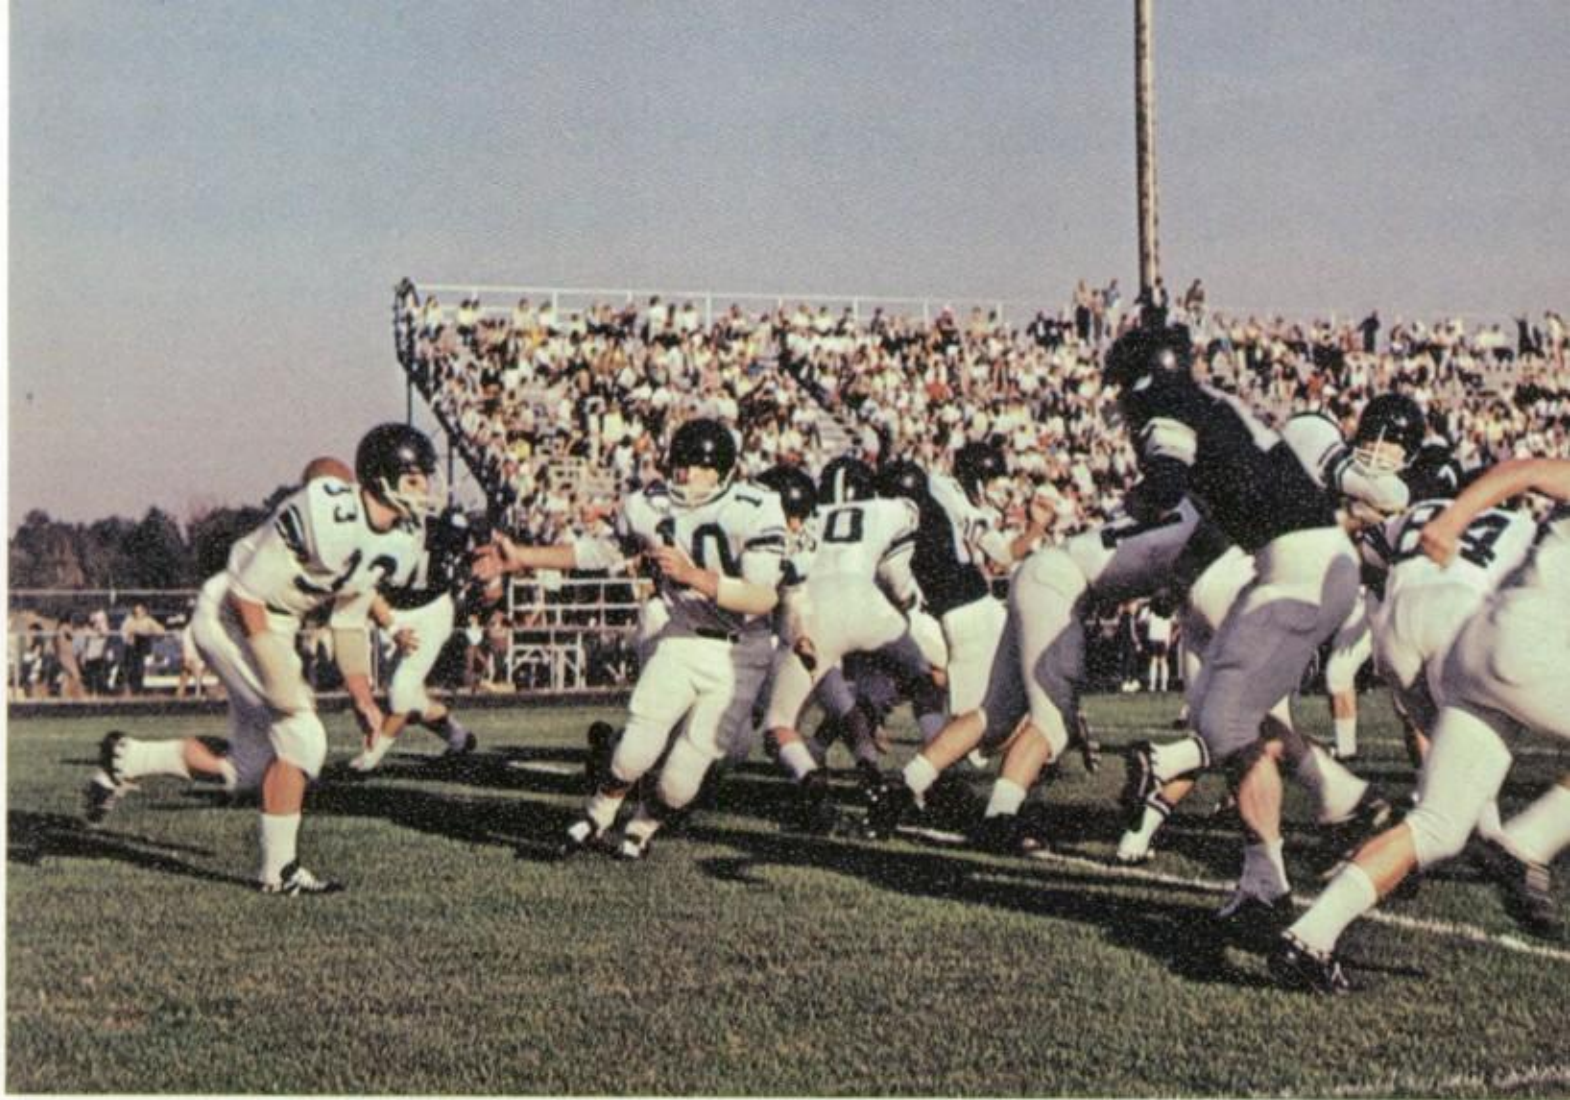

Bonfire, Homecoming Ignite Enthusiasm

Co-curricular activities are essential for total education. They are keyed to the students' interests and promote cooperation through participation that creates long-lasting memories.

In the fall, Lakeview honors the Top Ten during Homecoming week. This week includes exciting events such as the Bonfire. Pep assemblies inspire enthusiasm and unite the classes behind the team.

New Field Excites Students, Nothing Less Than

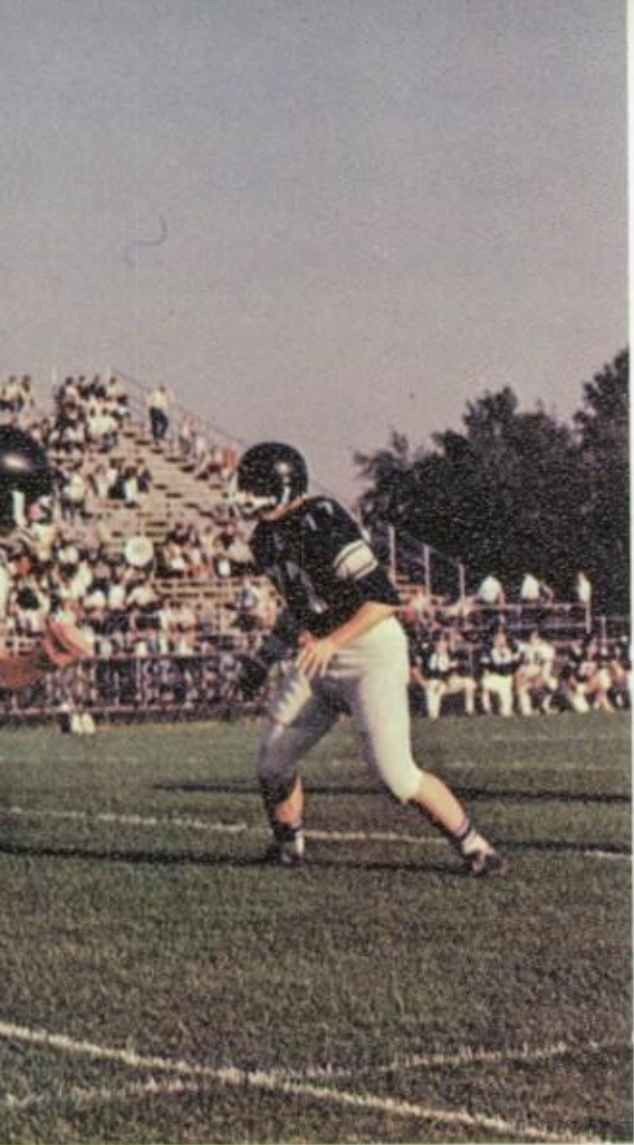

Athletic contests are not only an exciting aspect of school life but can also be accurate instruments with which to measure growth and maturity. Through victory and defeat, good sportsmanship, an essential in life, is developed.

Participation in sports requires strength, desire, determination, and dedication. Because of this, sports has become an increasingly important part of academic life.

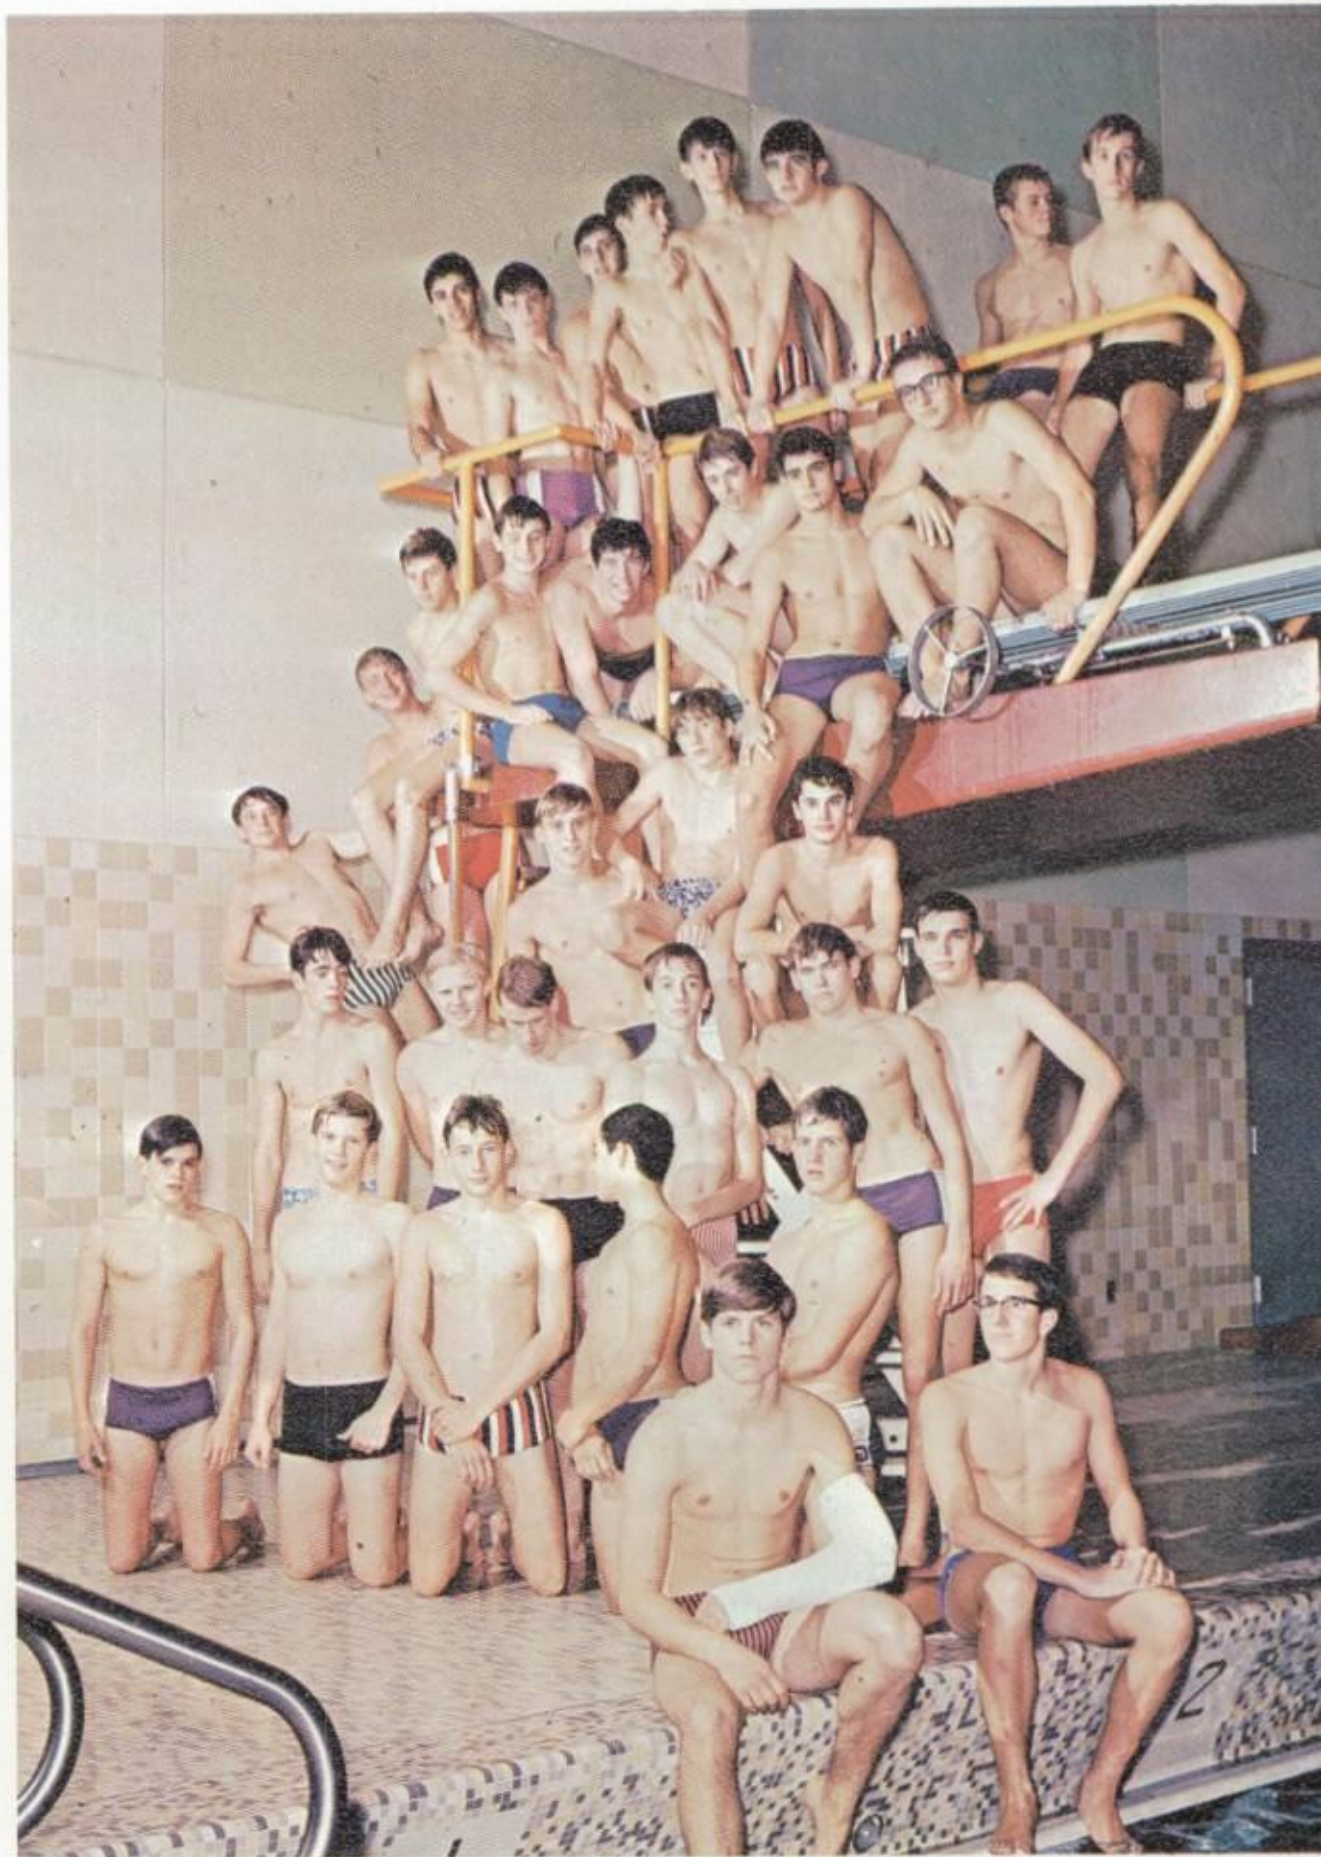

These majorettes, the first to perform on the new Spartan Memorial Field, lead the band throughout the football season.

Bruising action takes place in a pre-season football game, and swimmers anticipate a successful season.

Terrific '67-'68

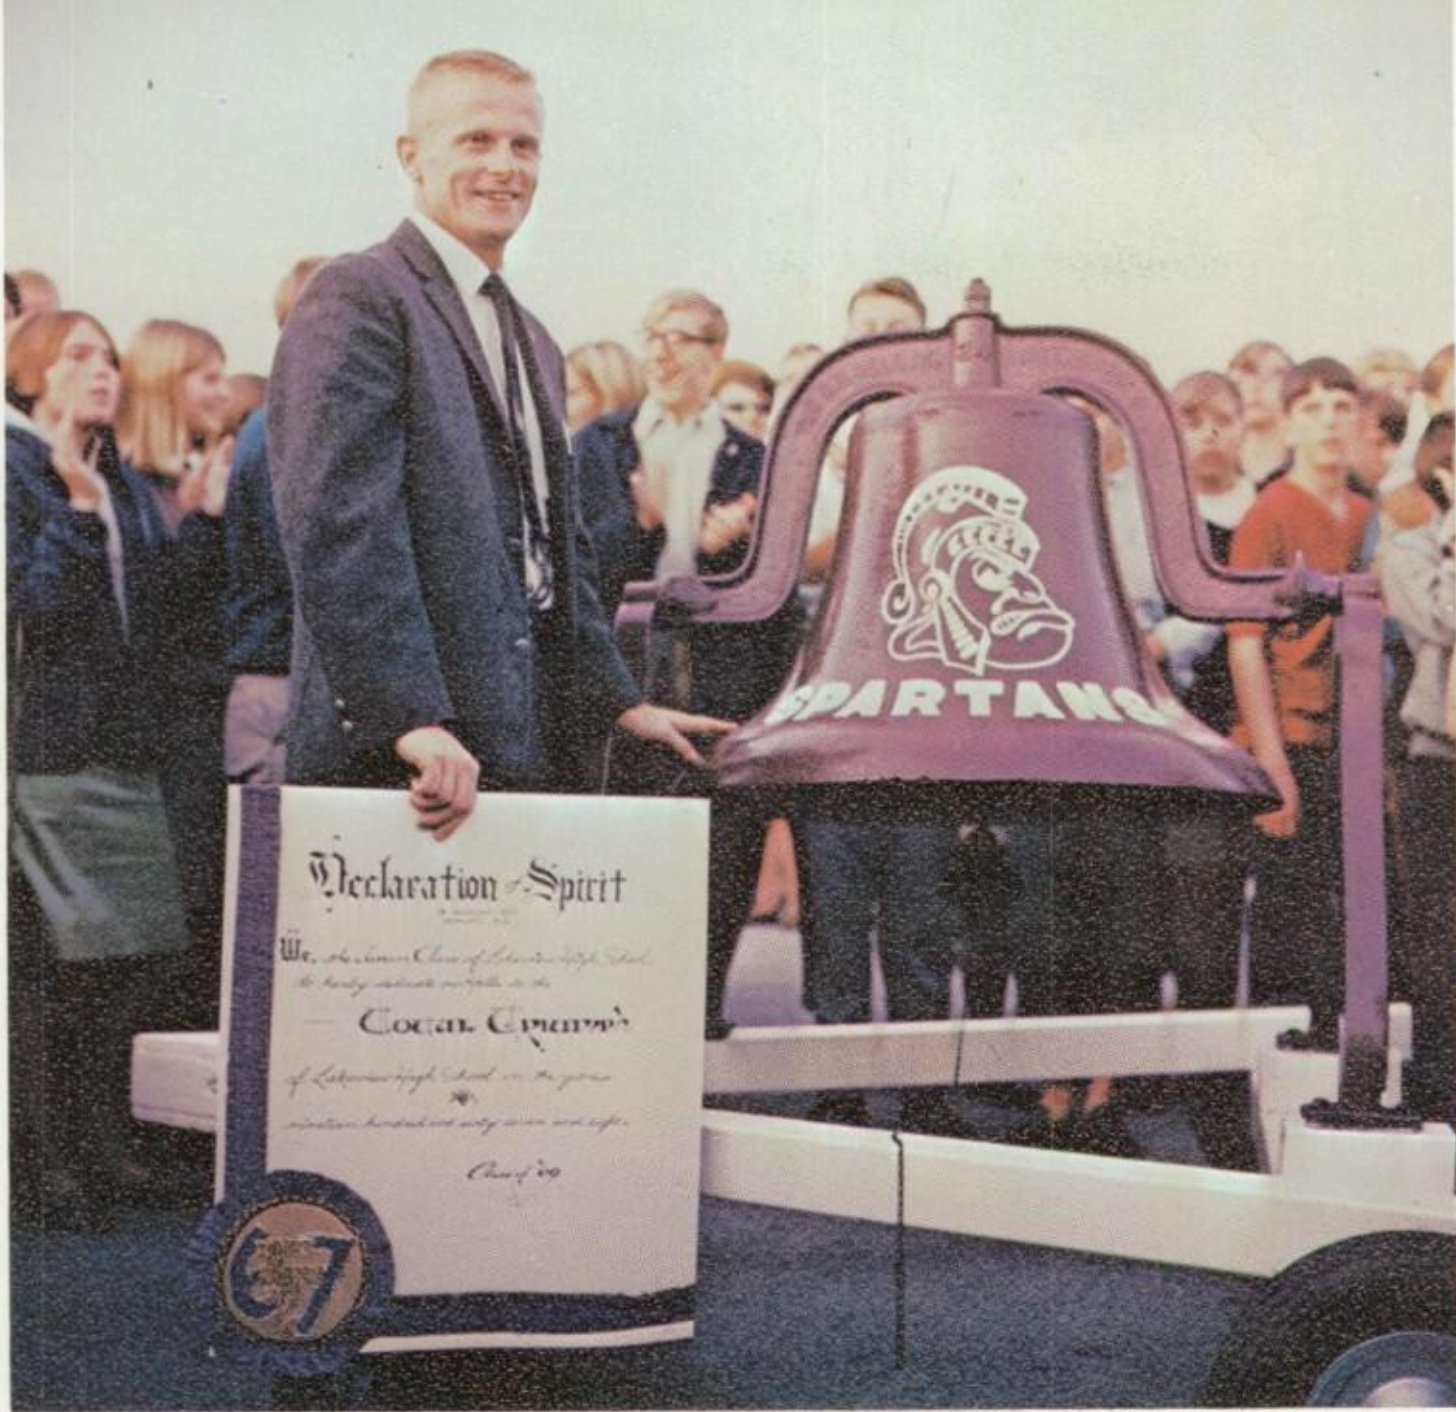

Community Participates, Pride Comes to LHS

Nothing succeeds like group participation. Lakeview is a success because there is interest and concern by the adults of the community.

Activities are strongly supported by many parents and involved citizens whose interests extend to cheering along with the National Champion cheerleaders, coming to Open House, and sponsoring a new program for the students, "So You Think It's Love"

A group of graduates, the East Leroy Embombers, do much to promote spirit and enthusiasm, and presented a Victory Bell to Coach Buzz McNally and the school.

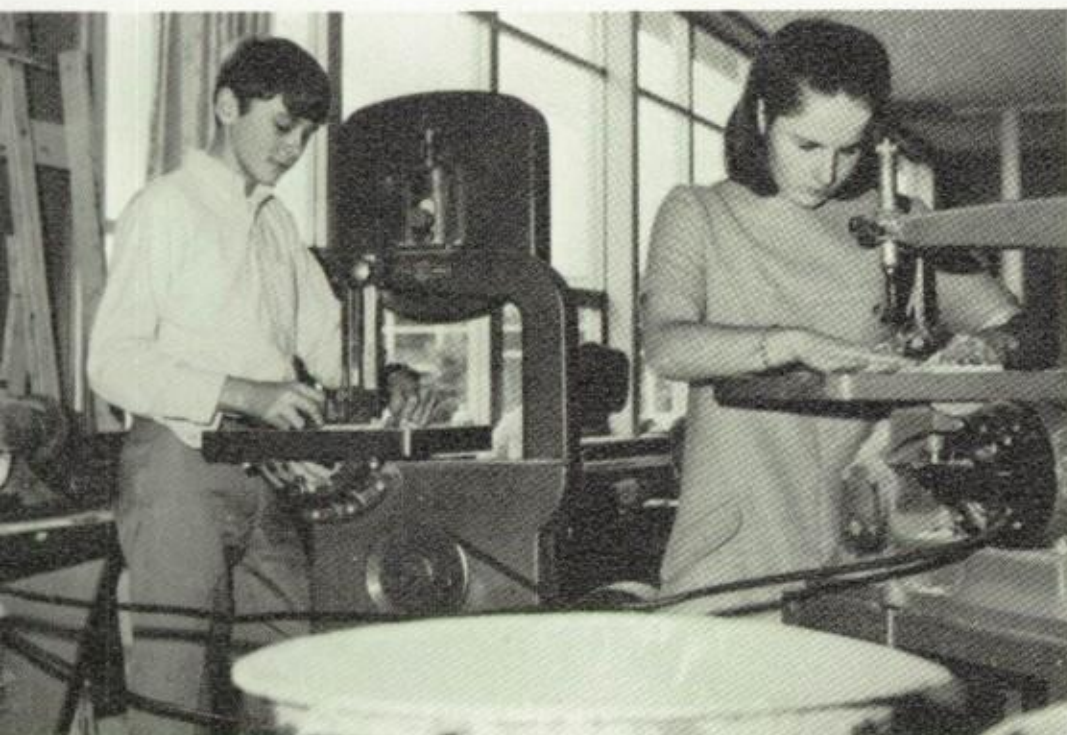

Take one teacher and add one student. Combine them in a classroom and let them simmer for one school year. This will yield one wiser teacher and one more educated pupil.

A successful teaching-learning situation requires a harmonious relationship between student and teacher. Both the learning and the learned must establish rapport, to receive full benefit of a formal education.

Difficult questions continually face the Lakeview Board of Education. The administrative ability of this group is in focus as they deal with the problems presented by a complex school system. After the millage defeat, the Board remapped a majority of the operational expenses of the school system.

A major issue confronting the Board is the long-range planning involved in housing students. Lakeview is a growing community and conditions must be met to accommodate the increasing number of students.

School Board members serve an unpaid four-year-term with officers elected at the annual organizational meeting in July.

Mr. Lloyd C. TeSelle, superintendent, and Mr. Karl Randels, assistant, work together to execute school policy established by the School Board. This might include formulating and adjusting bus schedules, selecting new faculty, and developing budgets. They also work with faculty and school principals to co-ordinate different programs pertaining to educational development.

Because of the complexity of school programs, two other administrative posts have been created. Mr. David Brophy, director of special services, handles such things as Adult Education. Mr. William Kritzmire, director of curriculum, works with district faculty in the selection of text books and courses.

High School Office Fuses Lakeview Activity

A typical day in the high school office is one of amazement to the passerby. Phones continuously ring, the mailman brings the mail, the repairman inquires where the broken projector is, the student wonders where to sign in, and the worried parent asks if her son has left class for a dental appointment. It takes stamina to be a member of the front office staff.

Mrs. Lois Vieyra is secretary to the principal. She takes care of all his official correspondence, serves as a general receptionist, and even formulates athletic eligibilities for the coaches.

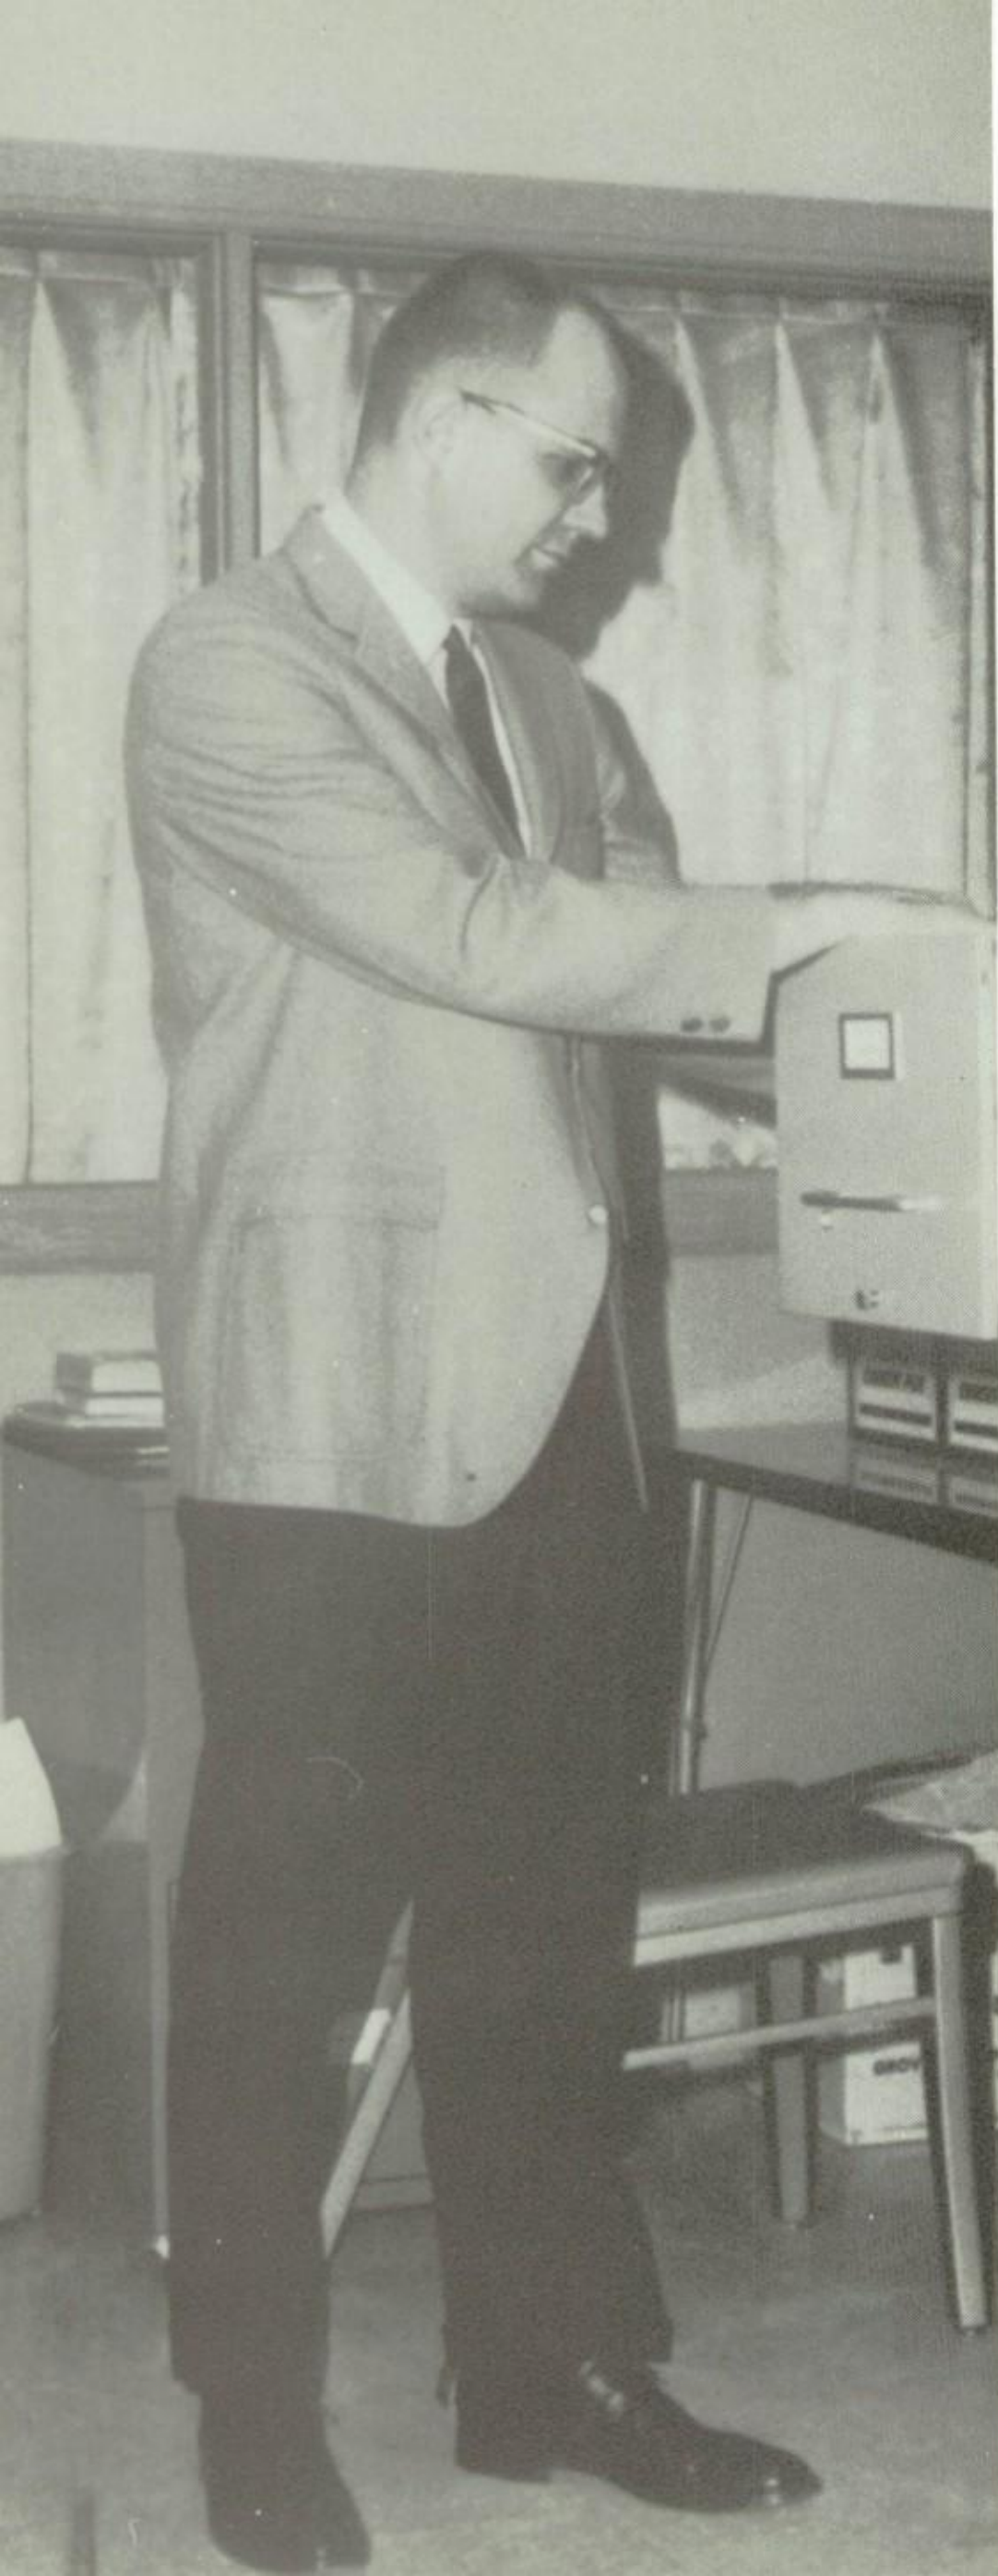

Mrs. Frances Wright is the bookkeeper. She manages all financial matters. Among her duties are keeping accounts of all club treasuries, cafeteria profits, and year end fines.

Mrs. Velda Warren, who now has a permanent station in the front office, handles attendance reports. She prepares all attendance records for the state of Michigan.

Mrs. Lois Vieyra discusses a schedule with Mrs. Velda Warren. Mrs. Frances Wright, background, totals up figures for her bookkeeping.

Principal T. N. Thomas, Lakeview's greatest listener, gives attention to another important problem.

Counselors Aid Students In Planning For Future

The Lakeview Guidance Department is composed of a network of programs designed to aid the student in areas of educational and occupational plans or problems. One aspect of getting to know a student's potential, abilities, and interests is through the testing program. The Guidance Department administers and tabulates the results of The Iowa Test of Educational Development, given to all students; the General Aptitude Test Battery, given to students pursuing a vocational career; and the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, given as a forerunner of the College Board Tests for college bound students.

A unique feature of this department is the health service program. This includes Mantoux TB testing and vision screening of all 9th graders and the immunization check on all students entering a Michigan high school for the first time.

The homebound program for students out of school for more than a week includes having classes conducted in the pupil's home.

This year, another microfilm machine was purchased. Many magazines have been placed on microfilm to make room for incoming books and magazines.

To supplement the modern equipment available is a transparency copier enabling students to better understand three-dimensional concepts. The library has also introduced 16 loop films concerning science and physical education.

Special Education

The Special Services Department includes special education and speech correction. Tape recorders and microphones are used to help the student listen to various speaking patterns in an effort to improve speech problems.

The special education program provides students with the knowledge of better communication with people. They also participate in work for the purpose of earning their own living after leaving school. This year, a new reading program and mathematical program is being utilized by the students.

From poetry to essays, from Milton to Updike, from individual thought to discussion, English classes provide the opportunity for students to discover and explore the English language. This fall, students travelled to Stratford, Ontario, saw Shakespeare's play, "Merry Wives of Windsor", and visited the Victorian Inn.

The theme of the Speech I and II classes is "speech for all" and is carried out in speeches ranging from the pantomime to the debate. One of the highlights is the sales talk. This year the best salesman was chosen daily from each class to compete for "The Best Salesman of the Year" award chosen by area merchants. The Speech II class attends many area theatrical productions such as "The Show Off" seen at the Mendelssohn Theater starring Helen Hayes. This class also organizes the annual Thanksgiving Assembly and takes an active part in the Fantasy.

This year a change has occurred in the Publications Department. Newly created Journalism I classes teach related career fields in journalism including the graphic arts, typography, advertising, design, layout, and news broadcasting. Also, an IBM composing machine was used by Crystal staff members to produce finished copy. Both yearbook and newspaper were increased in size.

Language Study Reveals Customs And Cultures

Another phase of the communication arts at Lakeview High School is the Foreign Language Department. Through the study of Latin, French, and Spanish, students are taught the customs and language of other nations.

Latin courses feature Roman mythology as well as Greek and Roman literature such as "The Roman State in Crisis" and Virgil's "Aeneid".

An addition to the French curriculum is a course of Conversational French designed for junior or senior students who are not preparing for college and who wish a basic understanding of French conversation.

In Spanish I and II, the emphasis is placed on grammar and pronunciation while in Spanish III and IV, works such as "Don Quixote" are translated. Spanish students plan early in the year for the annual summer trip to Mexico.

Sheryl Squier, Spanish II student, has yet to learn the difference between "How old are you?" and "How are you?" Mrs. Tapley helps her.

Before entering the language lab, students receive instructions from Mr. Burdick, French teacher.

Mr. Williams contemplates a theory question raised by an inquisitive student in his sociology class.

Future Citizens Gain Awareness Of World Events

Through social studies courses, man is viewed from many standpoints. At the 9th and 10th grade level, man is placed in a world situation and studied through the lands in which he lives and through the history of his country.

At the junior and senior level, the American man is observed from a governmental and historical viewpoint with the analysis of current event concepts being the basis of much critical thinking. Through economic and sociological approaches, the American man is compared and contrasted to other nations and their citizens.

Speakers, films, and movies are used to promote an awareness of current happenings and their relation to the American way of life. American government classes heard the views of a county prosecutor, a state representative, and a probate judge in the study of civil rights.

A new unit studied by government students was philosophy. Basic questions concerning reality, idealism, and the soul of man were discussed. These fundamental ideas were studied as a basis for the understanding of the communistic economic system.

Scientists Of Tomorrow Build On New Concepts

The Bunsen burner that wouldn't light, the scalpel that slipped and cut the worm in half, and the odoriferous scent of formaldehyde indicate Lakeview High School a center of scientific experimenting. Students are daily challenged with stimulating queries ranging from physiology to physics.

Many complex concepts face students as the demand for scientifically oriented personnel grows. Laboratory and field work is highly stressed, because the witnessing of chemical or biological phenomena is necessary for a thorough scientific background. By developing pictures in the darkroom, marking the growth of a tree outdoors, or studying the crayfish in the lab, Lakeview students achieve an awareness of scientific principles.

Mathematics Develops Logical Reasoning

The Mathematics Department stimulates each student to express his greatest qualitative potential by flexible assignments, unique tests, and to encourage work on challenging problems. The teachers in this department are continually experimenting with different types of teaching techniques to heighten student interest in learning and discovery. Teachers also try to stress logical and imaginative thinking when working problems. Introduction to Algebra II, is newly offered this year, with emphasis on problem solving rather than on abstract theory.

L.H.S. Offers Job Training

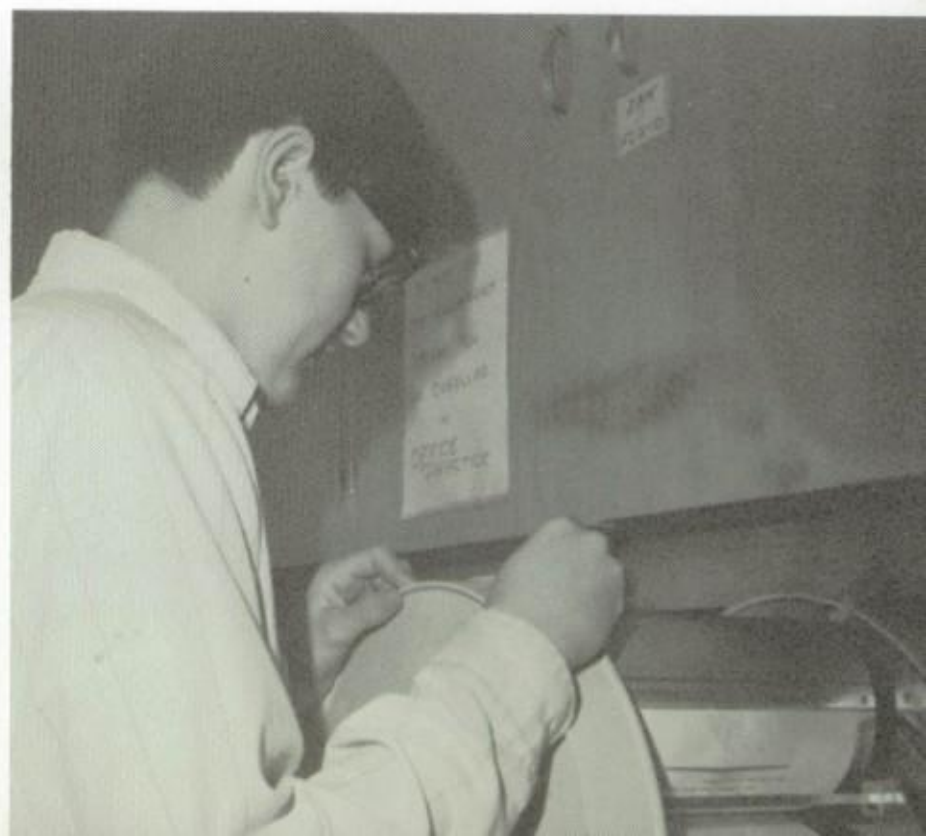

"My fingers are so sweaty they'll never hit the adding machine keys." "The mannequin's head for the showcase is cracked." "I can't figure out how to turn on the electric typewriter." These are familiar cries heard daily by teachers of Business Education.

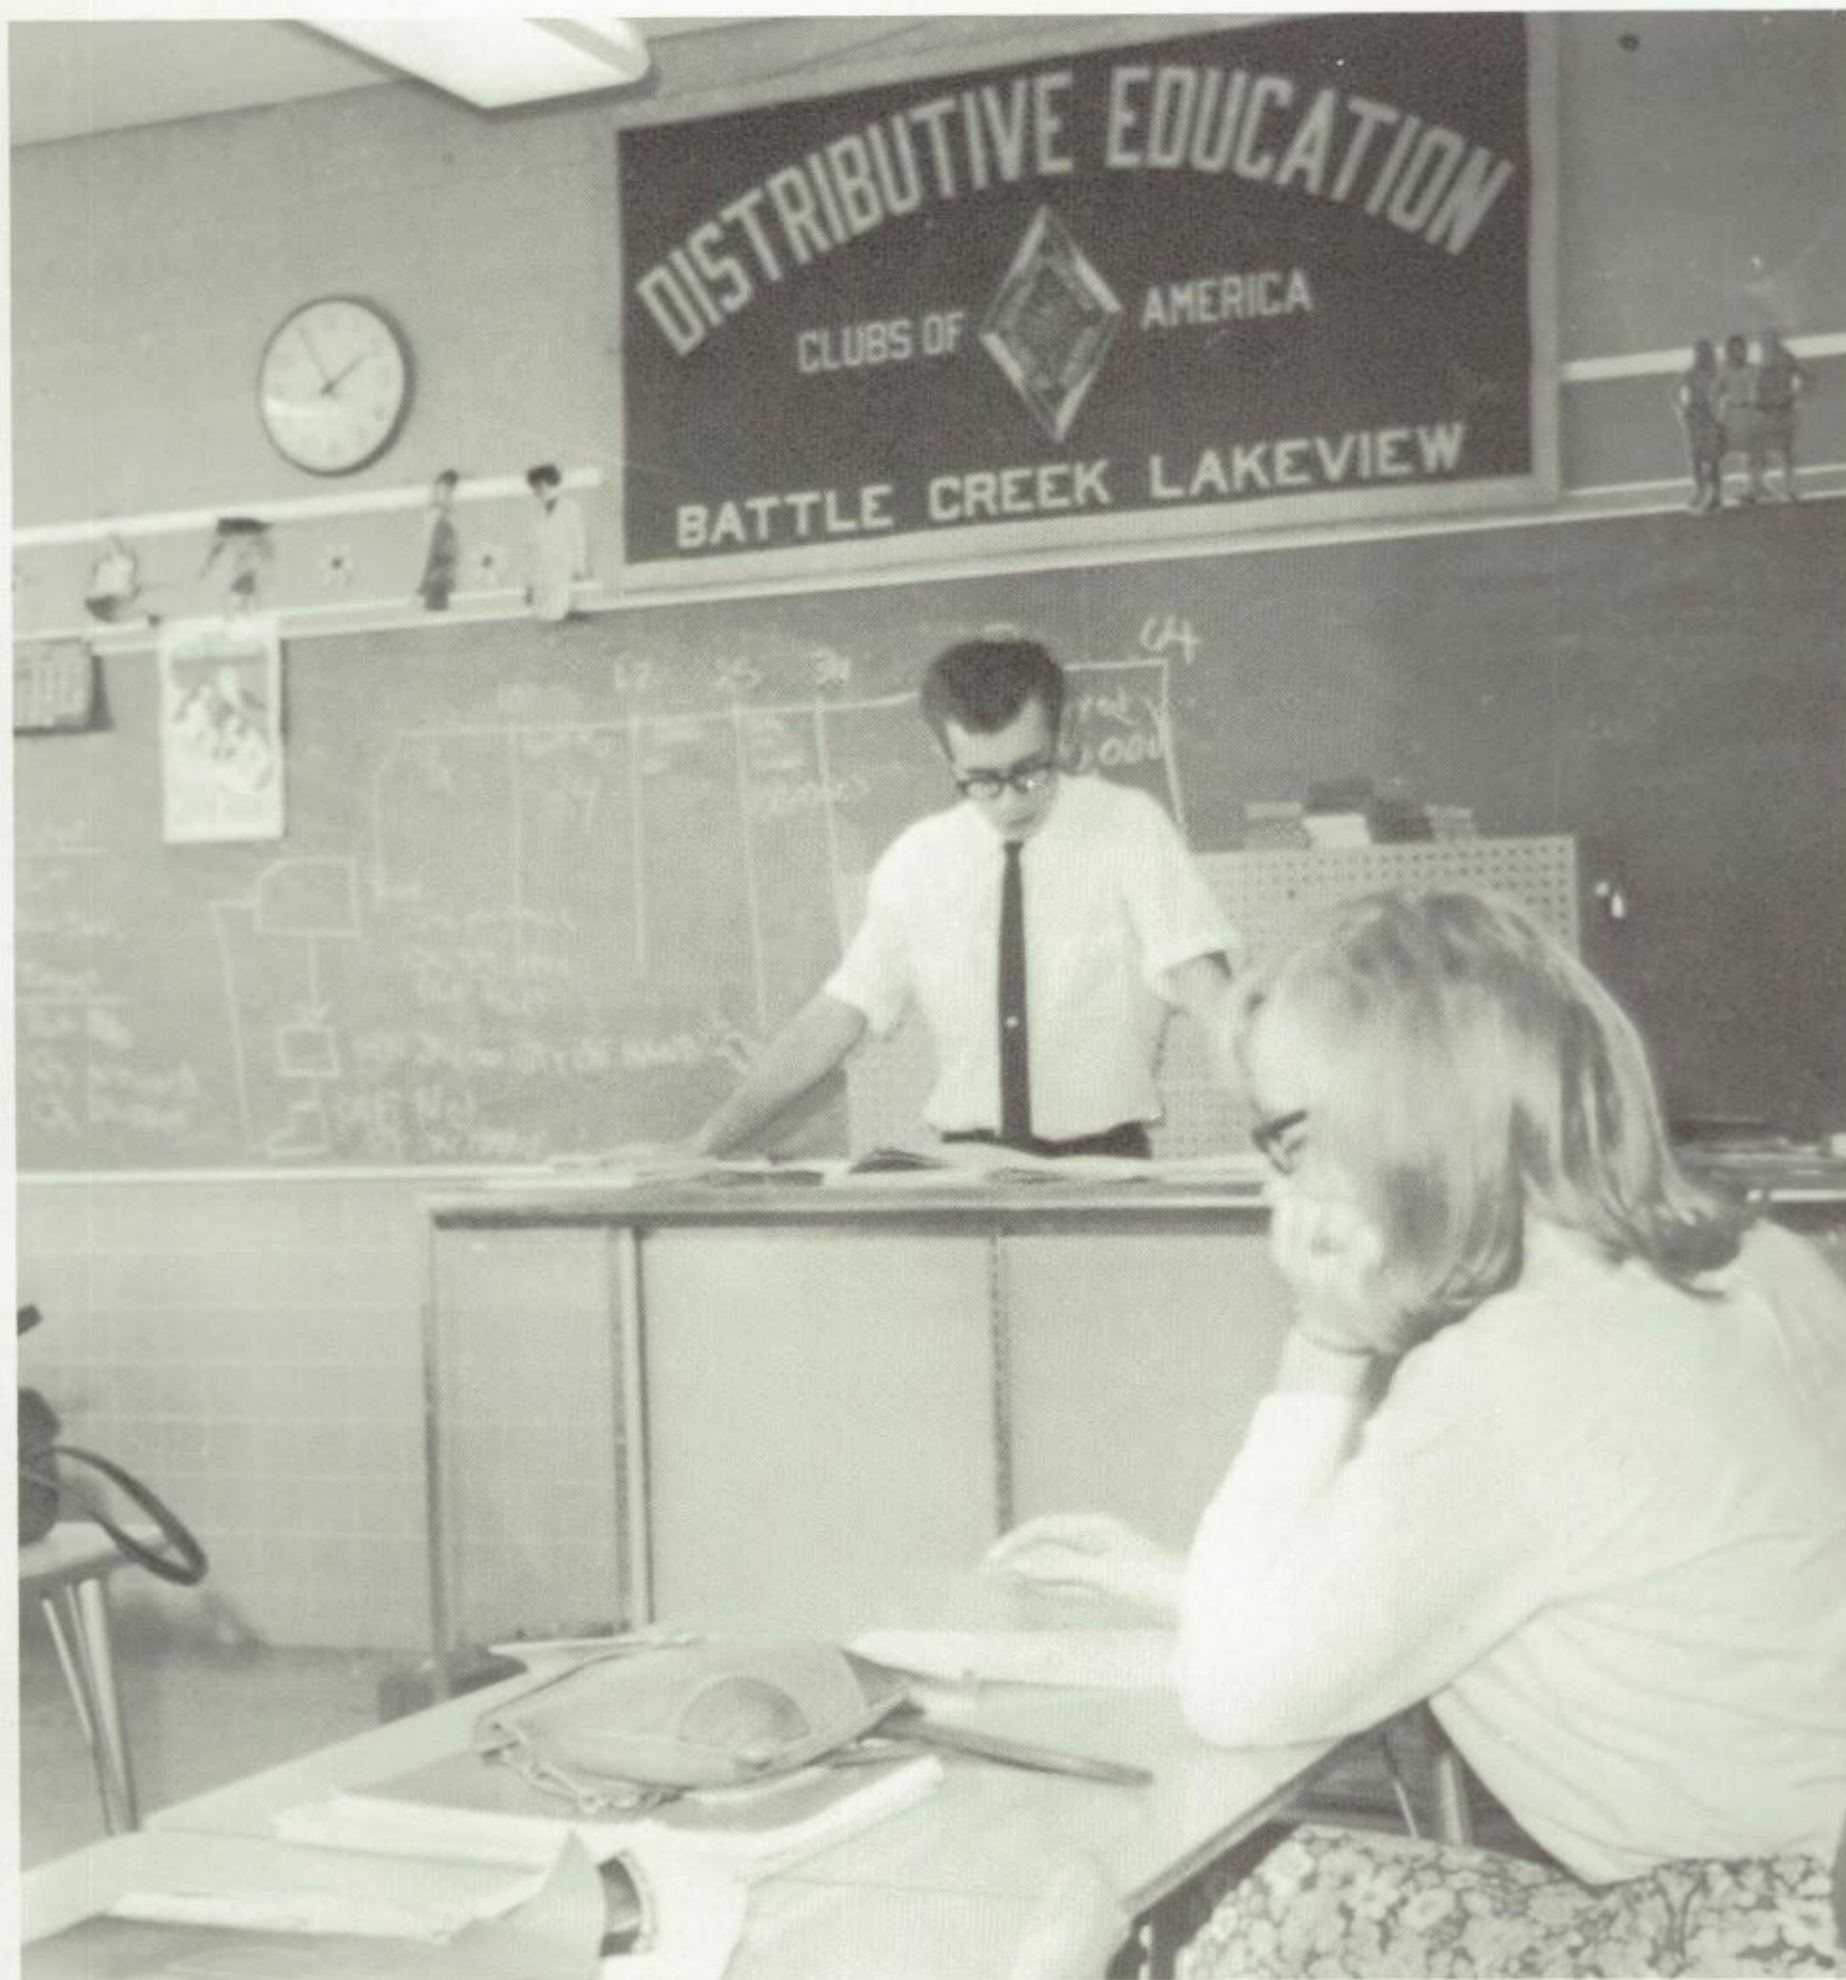

Business courses enable the individual to investigate the working world by studying the business codes, transactions, and equipment. Machines ranging from the key-driven calculator to the duplicator provide for easy finance calculation.

Shorthand is essential in secretarial training. Mrs. Townsend gives a quiz on shorthand symbols.

Instruction in business finance helps the student in the home as well as in business. Lynn Bower checks her accounting figures as teacher Mr. Smith reads the right answers.

To stimulate creative ability—this is the purpose of the wide realm of projects assigned to students. Ink rambles, color wheels, engravings, sculptures, scratch boards, paintings, and printings all contribute to mold creative ability into art form.

Vocational Education Readies Teens For Jobs

A girl's most important role in life is that of a mother and of a wife. In Home Arts, a one-semester course, cooking, sewing, home managing, and child raising are arts that the girls develop. Also, a home economics course is offered, generally for girls who want to make home economics a career.

Boys, too, are trained to be fathers and husbands. They take Home Arts courses to learn the techniques of cooking, mending, and household chores.

Instruction in power mechanics, machine shop and wood-working is also given. Drafting is offered to boys for use in vocational pursuits, and to girls for their own pursuits.

Skill and co-ordination are developed in physical education classes through stunts and tumbling.

Physical Activity

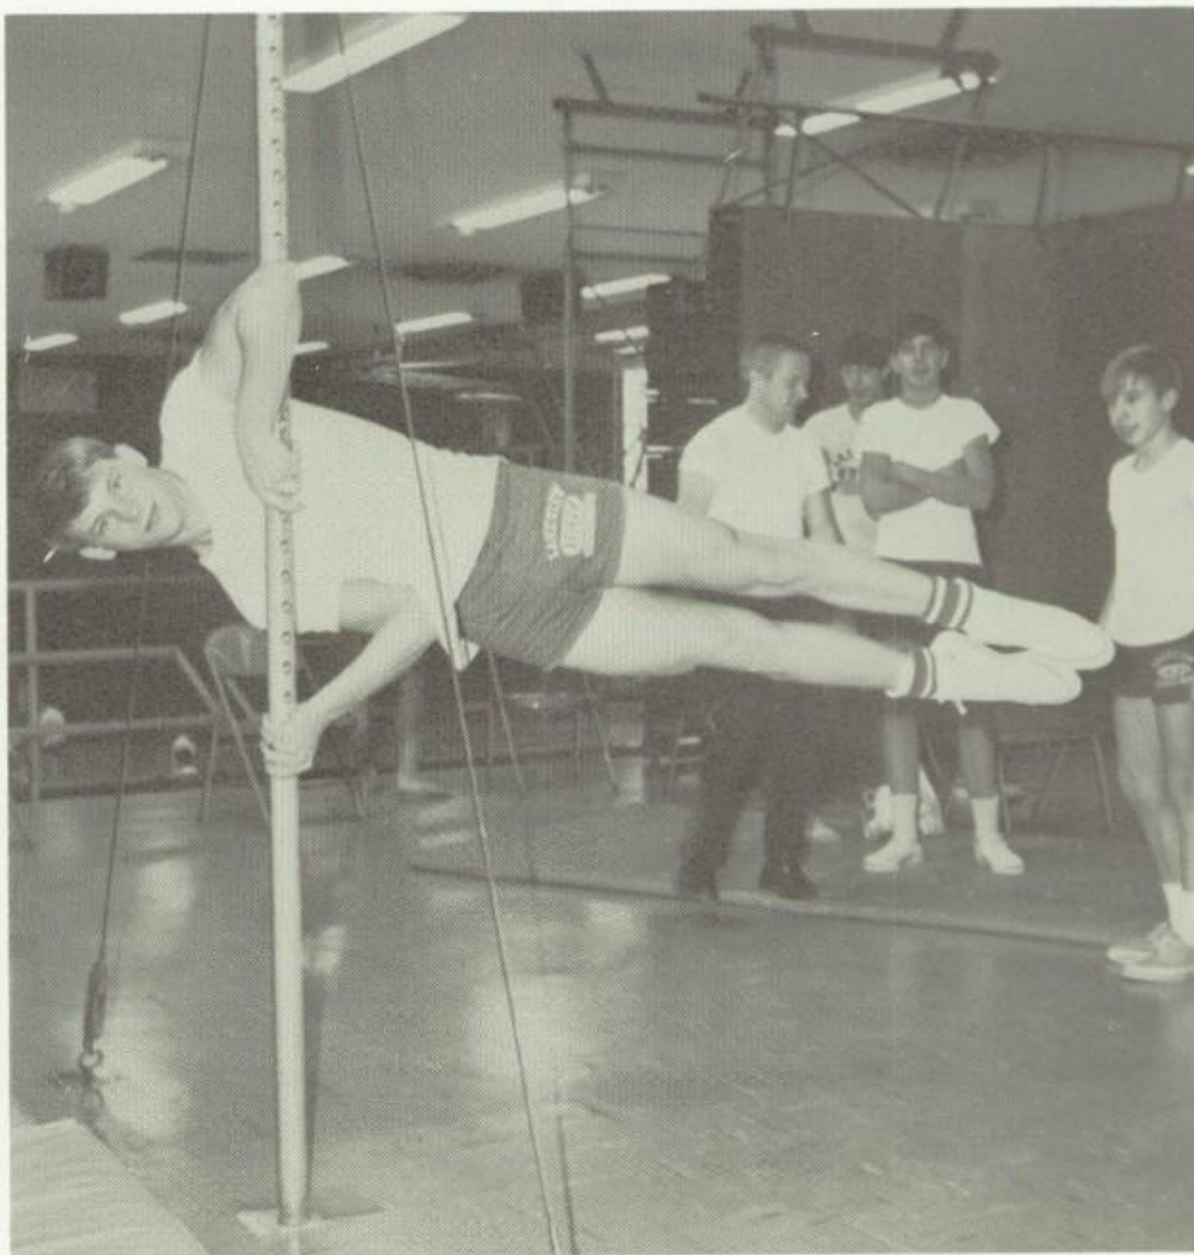

The mastery of physical skills, of body poise, of emotional alertness, and of the individual's desire to appreciate physical recreation is the result of participating in physical activities.

This year, sophomore girls studied plans for gaining and losing weight by learning the nutritive and caloric values of foods. Also, to keep the body trim, various exercises were taught.

Wet hair and accompanying groans were regularly witnessed on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week when freshman and sophomore girls swam. As freshmen, they learn basic strokes and as sophomores some were able to take Lifesaving. Boys also learned fundamental swimming strokes, and this year found it necessary to wear bathing caps.

Good Food, Clean School Result Of Much Effort

Extra demands for service are placed on the cafeteria and maintenance crews, particularly with the new lunch hour program. The seven cafeteria employees are helped by volunteers, both mothers and students, and the maintenance men must work three continuous shifts.

Working with senior mothers to prepare lunches is the cafeteria staff, Florence Marietta, Emma Sebo, Odelia Shump, Bertha Vinson, Rose Brown, and Fern Preston, cafeteria director. Missing from the picture is Carole Cuyler.

Activities make up a large part of LHS student life. By participating, students develop enthusiasm, interest, and satisfaction from working with others toward a common goal.

Such varied activities as Fantasy, Pep Assemblies, Basket Drive, Junior Prom, and Senior Play offer means of self-expression in many fields. Homecoming was a school-wide activity, and each class worked individually to decorate the halls. The entire student body united to cheer our team and elect the Court, to make this a perfect Homecoming Week.

Activities

After the assembly, alumni and the student body were provided with an opportunity to congratulate the Top Ten at the reception held in the cafeteria.

An important part of Homecoming is, of course, the returning alumni. Many made the trip back this year to see the assembly and the game.

Total Triumph Theme Activates Homecoming

The week of Homecoming, October 2-7, was one of excitement, work, and happiness for the entire student body.

Election of the Top Ten on Thursday of the previous week set Homecoming off on a feverish pitch. Members of the Top Ten this year are Allison Avery, Zane Balks, Janice Berg, Jeanne Berg, Judy Johnson, Leigh Markell, Ann Morse, Jan Pearse, Barb Upston, and Terry Zheutlin.

Homecoming week quickened the pace. Decorations were put up on Tuesday, carrying out the theme of Total Triumph. Thursday, the traditional bonfire was held, after which students attended the Top Ten dance where each member of the Top Ten was presented with a rose. Friday was the Queen's Assembly. The highpoint, of course was when the court and queen were chosen.

Students waited breathlessly as senior class president Don Roberts unfolded the piece of paper containing the names of the Queen and the three members of her court. "The members of the 1967 Homecoming court are: Allison Avery, Judy Johnson, Barb Upston, and . . ., and . . ." Don looked up confusedly. The fourth name had been mistakenly omitted from the paper.

Miss Chipley took control, "The Queen is still sitting," she announced. The suspense continued as the A Cappella choir sang. The gym echoed with excitement as Ann was announced as Homecoming Queen.

Hardworking Homecoming committee chairmen, Steve Holt and Mary Salomon were aided by Miss Chipley.

Queen Ann Reigns A

Homecoming week was drawing to a fast close but there was still more to come. The first Homecoming game ever to be held on Spartan Memorial Field was played Friday night against the Adrian Maples.

During the pre-game ceremonies fans applauded the Top Ten as they circled the field in cars, provided by Kimball Ford. In the first car rode Zane, Janice, and Jeanne. Following them were Leigh, Jan, and Terry. The court, Allison, Judy, and Barb, came next, and finally in the last car rode Queen Ann.

At half-time, the girls were escorted onto the field by their fathers, where last year's Queen, Sue Simpson, assisted by Don Roberts, crowned Ann. A short-circuited microphone caused difficulty in hearing. In this case though, actions spoke louder than words.

The weather that night was bad and the temperature was low, but Lakeview spirit was high and loud as students wrapped up in blankets cheered themselves hoarse. LHS lost the game by one touchdown.

The Homecoming dance, Palais Royale, sponsored by the Log staff, completed the week. Members of the Top Ten were honored at a special ceremony midway through the dance. The dance lasted until midnight, finishing an unprecedented week.

Workshops Offer Varied Opportunities For Study

Summer workshops, camps, and clinics provided educational opportunity for many Lakeview students this year. Students attended Kentucky State University, Western Michigan University, Interlochen, University of Kansas, University of Detroit, Crystal Falls, Michigan State University, Olivet College, Central Michigan University, University of Michigan and Hope College.

Nine boys attended Wolverine Boys State at Michigan State University. These boys were selected on the basis of leadership and scholastic ability. The main purpose of this clinic is to teach democratic government.

Student Council and class officers attended Leadership clinic in Crystal Falls, Michigan. There they learned leadership qualities that help them guide the student body during the year.

Ten senior students took part in Government Day, November 13, as a part of Youth Appreciation Week. Each student held an honorary position in the Township government. During the week, the student's counterparts took them on tours and explained the duties and responsibilities of their jobs. On Monday ten students were able to attend and participate in a board meeting. This annual event is sponsored by the Optimist Club to give youth a better understanding of government.

Snowball, Junior Prom: Evenings To Remember

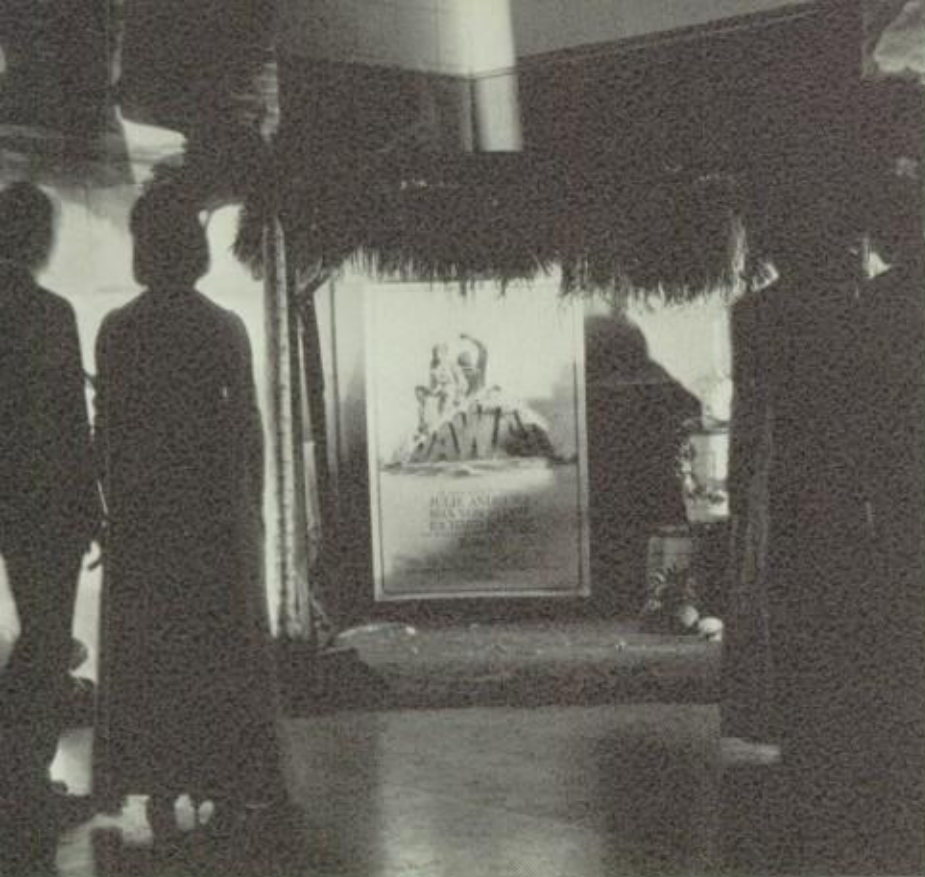

Two important dates on the Lakeview calendar were December 28, and February 10, when Snowball and Junior Prom were held.

Junior class members were busily planning months before the prom. Committees, committee chairmen, theme, and decorations had to be chosen. Co-chairmen Debbie Cable and Charley Ryan worked hard to get things organized and running smoothly. Committees went busily to work, making decorations to carry out the theme of Hollywood Premiere. Hawaii, Ben Hur, Dr. Zhivago, and the Brown Derby were some of the main decorations. Couples were greeted at the entrance and announced as they entered. Once inside, they danced to music by the Children, the first psychedelic band to play at a dance at Lakeview.

The Snowball is an annual event sponsored by Battle Creek area schools. It is held at the Battle Creek Country Club and is open to all juniors, seniors and college students. The dance is organized by a committee composed of girls from Central, Lakeview, St. Philip, Pennfield, and Harper Creek. This year Holiday Magic was chosen as the theme of Snowball. Playing at the dance were the Tiers, a band from Kalamazoo.

Debbie Kajcienski apprehensively watches her committee at work on the Hawaii scene.

Couples gaze with admiration at the portrayal of the film Hawaii.

On the eve of Junior Prom industrious juniors add finishing touches to the entrance way.

Chaperones, Mrs. M.W. Davis and Mrs. Robert Braun chat with co-chairmen, Jeanne Berg, Cheryl Cebelak and their dates.

Barb Upston signs the register at the Snowball.

Lakeview welcomed four foreign exchange students this year. They are: Ann Sofi Bohlin from Sweden, Ineke Dirkse from Holland, Cecile Lindqvist from Sweden, and Ann Marie Lybeer from Germany.

Y.F.U. Succeeds, Students Top Goal

The mission of the Y.F.U. program is to enable students to live in a foreign country, to observe different customs and to understand more fully foreign cultures. Money contributed made the mission possible.

Exchange students related experiences, and their families were presented with gifts at a school assembly.

Co-chairmen Leigh Markell and Sydney Frost worked hard, along with Mr. Ball, to make Mission Possible Week a success.

Junior class president Trudy Yarnell holds the banner awarded to the juniors for contributing the most money to the Youth For Understanding fund.

Money collected for the Y.F.U. buys Logs, class rings, and activity tickets for the exchange students.

In the right column: Cathy Fowler, Germany; Cathy Markham, Finland; and Cynthia Spalding, Japan.

"Cheer, Cheer For Dear Lakeview High"

Under the direction of Mr. Moore, the band did a great job of generating enthusiasm and spirit at Pep Assemblies.

Members of the Pep Assembly Planning Committee are Allison Avery, Debbie Kajcienski, Barb John, Ann Armstrong, Trudy Yarnell, Nancy VandeVrede, Miss Chipley. They worked hard at scheduling and performing skits and speeches.

Nancy VandeVrede shakes hands with Sparty, Lakeview mascot, after giving a speech about the spirit at Lakeview.

The student body claps and cheers as they "fire up" their spirit for the game that night. Bottom right: Cheerleaders and Sparty "stomp a Bearcat" in an assembly.

Funds For Spartan Memorial Field

Raised By Student, Community Determination

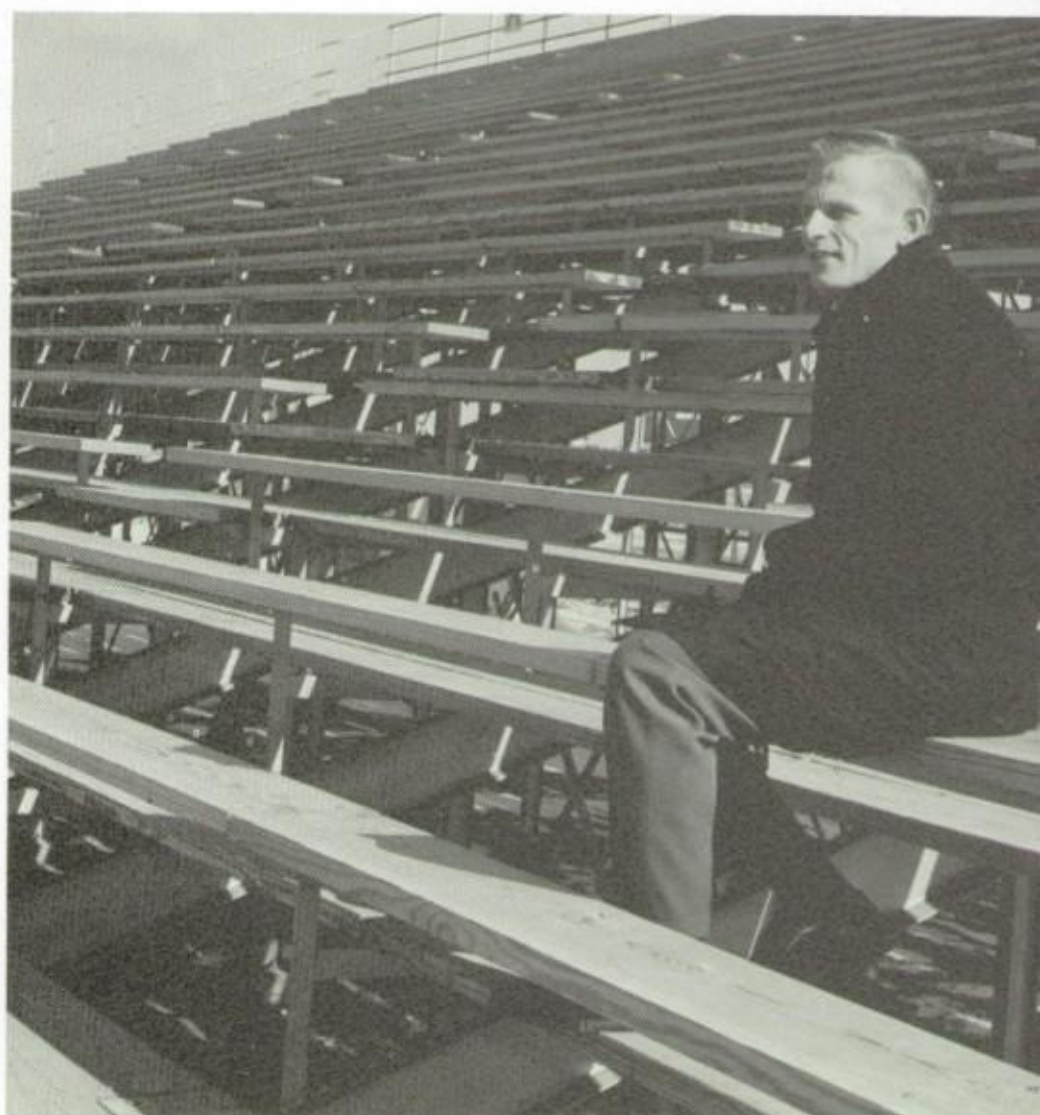

Lakeview is a proud school this year. After years of sitting on Greenfield's small, splintery bleachers, the students of Lakeview, their parents and the community built Lakeview a stadium, the dream of so many for so long; Spartan Memorial Field.

The citizens' Committee, a group of interested fathers, started the action that began to make the Spartan dream a reality. Mr. James Barclay and Dr. Keith Phelps were chosen to be co-chairmen of the project. The school's total contribution was $5,900. The big door-to-door drive produced $18,000, headed by Mr. Ted Moffit and co-chairmen Mrs. George Piggush and Mrs. Don Roberts. While parents tramped door-to-door collecting money, students carried signs and posters up and down the streets. Local business and industry contributed $13,000 to the general fund. Mr. Ted Sovern was in charge of this part of the drive.

The balance of the money was supplied by many sources. Part came from Lakeview alumni. For one night last summer students worked stuffing and addressing envelopes that were sent to Lakeview alumni. Carwashes, food sales, tennis court dances, and an ice cream social were held to obtain money for the fund. The Keener DJ's donated advertising and their time at a Keener Grasser, the biggest dance of the summer.

The stadium now has a field that has the best lighting of any high school in the area. There are 1,900 new permanent steel bleachers for the home side. WKFR broadcasted the games from the new press box. The public address system is comparable to those in stadiums such as Notre Dame's. The goal posts were donated by the parents of David Leiter and the Lindemulder flag pole donated by the class of '65. Additional gifts were given in memory of Mark Lander and Fritz Heinze.

Spartan Memorial Field is a standing tribute to the true Spartan spirit; the pep, vigor, and "never say die" enthusiasm that is Lakeview's. A wonderful dream became a proud reality when the football team played for the first time in the stadium. The stadium is also a standing challenge to future classes at Lakeview. It is up to them to perfect what has been started. Spartan Field will always remain as a reminder of what love, loyalty and enthusiasm can do.

Mr. James Barclay, Mr. Don Roberts, and Mr. Ted Sovern, three key stadium boosters gaze with pride at the new Field.

The first light pole lies ready to be uprighted to tower above the stands.

Lakeview offers a wide variety of clubs and organizations for student participation. The talents of both students and faculty create and promote new ideas for the benefit of each group. Activities are planned for pleasure as well as for work through which students may learn to cooperate with other people.

Whether pursuing vocational interests, sliding down the hills of Echo Valley, or providing a student government within the school, clubs and organizations offer the opportunity to work with other people in a united effort.

Clubs And Organizations

This year's Student Council Officers are Kelley Seymour, vice-president; Gary Mallernee, president; Terry Zheutlin, corresponding secretary; Barb Upston, recording secretary, and Kathy Durkin, treasurer.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Representatives Focus On School Problems

Under the leadership of president Gary Mallernee and advisor Mr. Martin Ball, the 1967-68 Student Council developed into a well-organized group to serve the students, faculty, and community.

A primary issue raised and discussed this year by the Council was the traffic problem in the Lakeview area. Acting committees within the Council such as the Foreign Exchange Student, Constitution, Social, Assembly, and Building and Grounds Committee helped with projects and problems in the school. Managing a snack bar and organizing dances helped to raise the needed funds to buy a gift for the school.

As editor of a section in the Log, Joni Williamson spent a lot of time writing copy, organizing pictures, and planning layouts to make this year's senior section really unique.

A typical scene in A-23 sixth hour included Sue Walmsley, Mark Rowlee, and Sue Peterman, Crystal members, hard at work. Putting out a school newspaper every two weeks takes an energetic group of students.

Newspaper And Yearbook Increase In Size

CRYSTAL STAFF

Under the helpful hand of Mrs. Rena Leiter, editors and assistant editors, the Crystal staff accomplished their goal of more issues and a better quality newspaper by making changes, improvements and additions. These additions included the experimentation of an IBM composer for the use of composing finished body type in class, also using spot color for the first time and the use of two-page spreads occasionally during the year.

The job of head photographer of both the Log and Crystal isn't an easy task. As the "candid camera of LHS", Phil Naas filled the needs of the newspaper and yearbook staff.

LOG STAFF

The Log Staff experienced a year of hard work and accomplishment. Many changes were made as the Log Staff strived for a better yearbook under the guidance of Mrs. Rena Leiter, advisor, editors, and assistant editors. Included in these changes were an increase to 256 pages, more four-color process pictures, use of spot color and the duo-black pictures used on the dividers.

OFFICE AND GUIDANCE ASSISTANTS

Volunteers Keep Order In Office

The Student Office Assistants aid the secretaries in running the office properly. These girls deliver messages, run errands, operate the switchboard, work the ditto, and take care of the attendance.

The Guidance Department is assisted by student volunteers each day who eliminate the routine tasks that the counselors and Mrs. Salomon would ordinarily have to do. These girls alphabetize, file, mail circulars, and deliver call slips—necessary duties to insure smooth operation of the department.

Office assistants, Helen Rayment and Sherri Lynn are kept busy filing class schedules and taking care of telephone messages.

ROW 2: Pam Hand, Donna Coulter, Gail Reed, Paulette Gosnell, Mrs. Helen Salomon, Donna Sherrow, Mr. Robert Harvey.
ROW 1: Marta Boner, Marlene VanOrman, Barb Fesmire, Cynthia Coulson, Bonnie Langen.

Student Librarians Learn By Doing

Dave Bennett, library assistant, works busily in the magazine room organizing and finding reference material for students.

The Library Assistants work under Mrs. Sandra Colburn and Mrs. Mary Brooks. They help students and teachers in the library by locating desired information and books. Included in their routine duties are doing research assignments and keeping a designated section of books and magazines in proper order. Such things as shelving, mending, and checking out books and creating displays are some of the assistant's chores.

The full year's credit and training that the students receive is beneficial.

Students Participate In Business World

The officers of the DECA Club: Bert Shedd, treasurer; Cherrie Neubaum, president; Sandi Joppie, secretary; Janet King, vice-president; Linda Wills, parliamentarian; Carol Heyduck, reporter; Sandi Taber, historian; and Mrs. Barbara Pitkethly, advisor; participated in National DECA Week.

Lakeview's Business Club and Distributive Education Club of America (DECA) are the fastest growing organizations within the school. With a membership of about 150 students, the program, headed by Mrs. Barbara Pitkethly and co-advisor Mr. John Nicholich, is in its fourth year.

Promoting understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free competitive enterprise system and developing a respect for education in marketing and distribution are the combined goals.

Forty of the seventy seniors who were involved in DECA this year participated in the Co-Op program under which they worked part-time in area businesses.

As in past years, the club has undertaken many different activities. Members sold mums during Homecoming Week, took care of children at the Fort Custer State Home Halloween night, and adopted a family in need during Thanksgiving and Christmas. Selling paperback books and magazines before school in A-5 was a new money-making project sponsored by the club this year.

Members attended the State Delegate Congress and the State and National Conferences. Climaxing the year, the DECA Club held its annual Employer-Employee Banquet on May 15, where all the students involved in the Co-Op program were honored.

Group Studies International Affairs

Under the guidance of Miss Virginia Bilbrey, members of the United Nations Club are becoming aware of how the U.N. functions and of our place, as students, in foreign affairs.

The U.N. Club has many educational activities throughout the year. An assembly is presented for junior and senior high schools of the district which resemble a mock U.N. session. Many foreign students from Western Michigan University, Kellogg Community College, and other neighboring colleges and universities speak at various meetings. Debates concerning current topics of the U.N. are held with clubs of the surrounding area.

As special events of the year the U.N. Club participates in the Model United Nations Assembly at Hillsdale College and the All Nations Day at Lansing.

Club Makes Debut

Due to its newness, the Political Science Club ran into a number of difficulties this year. Under the guidance of Mr. Harold Chase, advisor, and Steve Fox, president, interested students formed a club to reach a deep understanding of political science.

Activities included guest speakers from the American Civil Liberties Union who spoke on civil rights and civil liberties. Inter-club debates were held concerning these topics. Members also attended a State Legislature meeting in Lansing.

Boys Investigate Technological Fields

The Junior Engineering Technical Society (JETS) and Radio Club combined their efforts this year for better overall organizations. Meeting once every week in A-10, the members gained knowledge in the space-age field which included both man's goals and his achievements. Under the leadership of Mr. Robert Kile, advisor, and Charlie Adamson, president, the club studied the general areas of electronics and transmitting equipment. A special feature of the club was basic learning in the field of aerodynamics.

The success of the club was based on the members newly gained background which enabled them to build model rockets and radio control planes.

Girls Join In Area Service Projects

By selling paper flowers at basketball games, having food sales, and presenting a program at the YWCA for small children of the area, the Y-Teens work with advisors Miss Kay Ellington and Mrs. Jeanne Townsend to promote fellowship and harmony.

The "hanging of the greens" at the YWCA at Christmas and a January party provide opportunities to confer with area members. In addition, inter-city council meetings are held every month, and a newsletter is written.

F.T.A. AND F.H.A.

Students Plan For Future Vocations Through

Jane Curtis assists elementary students in the cadet teaching program.

Under the supervision of advisors Miss Marlyn DeWaard and Mr. Kenneth Krohn, principal of Westlake Elementary School, the Future Teachers of America were engaged in many activities. Money was raised for a $150 scholarship, which was given to a worthy member, by having monthly bake sales, car washes, and a rummage sale in the spring.

Cadet teaching gave interested girls an opportunity to learn about the teaching profession by participating in classes at Westlake Elementary School.

Events highlighting the year included "Apple Day" during National F.T.A. Week, November 6-10, when all the teachers in the Lakeview School District received apples in recognition of their profession. A Christmas party was sponsored by the club at Fort Custer as a service project to entertain the younger children. The year was climaxed with the annual Teacher's Tea when the new officers were initiated and the students and teachers who participated in the cadet teaching program were honored.

Participation In Clubs

Many outstanding events occurred in the Future Homemakers of America chapter of Lakeview this year under the direction of Mrs. Alberta Hawkins and Mrs. Carolyn Kerber.

The girls planted purple and white tulips and crocuses in the cafeteria court as part of a program to beautify the school. An international potluck was presented with the foreign exchange students and their American parents attending.

The purpose of the conventions, meetings, and all other activities of the Future Homemakers of America was to further the interests of Home Economics and to encourage a growing appreciation for the joys and satisfactions of homemaking.

C'était Une Bonne Année Pour Le Cercle Francais

This year the French Club is under the direction of advisors Mr. Deane Harsha, Mr. Kenneth Burdick and president Cathy Strand. The purpose of the club is to give French students a better understanding of French people, culture, and customs.

The club continued its yearly traditions of sponsoring the Soc Hop the first week of school to acquaint the freshmen with the upperclassmen, the frustrating initiation of new members, and the trip to Chicago in the Spring to visit museums and French shops.

SPANISH CLUB

Annual Chicago Trip Tops Year's Activities

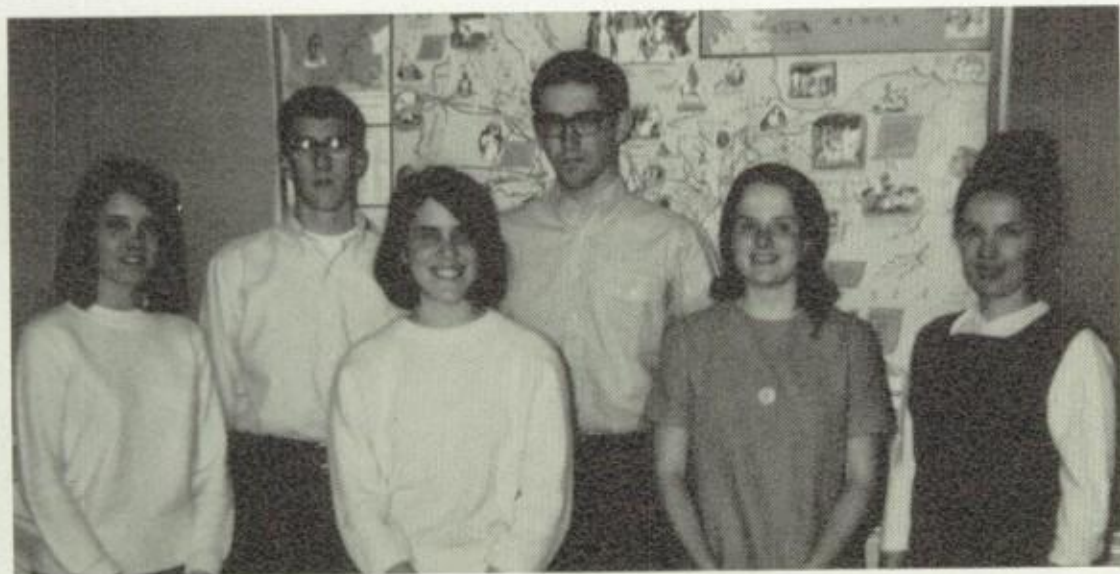

An eventful year was enjoyed by all members of the Spanish Club. With the assistance of Mrs. Sally Tapley, advisor, and Pam Corington, president, the members held many food sales and other money-making projects for a goal of a Chicago bus trip to a play in May. Other events included eating at a local Spanish restaurant, and having several holiday parties including a pizza and pinata Christmas party.

LATIN CLUB

Members Prepare Latin Week Activities

Mrs. Geraldine Fitzgerald and Keith Hull provided the leadership in this year's Latin Club. The group was composed of 35 Latin students who were interested in learning more about the Roman way of life. As a chapter of the National and Michigan Junior Classical Leagues, the Latin Club encouraged appreciation of the civilization of Ancient Rome and Greece and gave an understanding of the debt of our own culture to that of classical antiquity.

Events attended by club members included the Michigan and National Junior Classical Leagues conventions. The main project was selecting a delegation from Lakeview's club to attend the Festum Romanum at Portage Northern High School. Also of importance to the club was Latin Week, when the members made the school aware of the importance of Latin by dressing in traditional costumes and displaying art projects and buildings styled after the ancient originals and built by the members at meetings.

Members plan activities for Latin Week and for Festum Romanum.

Rigid Qualifications Limit Number Of New Members

Every year juniors with a 3.0 over-all average are eligible for the National Honor Society. Their names are submitted to a panel of teachers who judge these students on scholarship, leadership, character, and service. An induction assembly was held for the 14 new members to honor their acceptance into the organization. An evening ceremony was also held for the new members and their parents.

With the assistance of Mr. Harold Chase, advisor, and Larry Kaiser, president, the members promoted scholastic achievements, and leadership abilities. The chapter's main goal was to function as a service organization and to maintain the high standards of the National Honor Society.

Since National Honor Society is a service group, the activities consist of beneficial projects concerning the school and the community. One of these projects was a mock Communist trial presented to the student body. A drive was also launched to get citizens out to vote.

Punch and cookies were enjoyed by National Honor Society members at the initiation meeting.

Speech Students Increase Activity, Improve Record

Lakeview's Thespians proved to be an extremely active group this year. Under the direction of Miss Ellen Harvey, many projects were completed and numerous events attended. Included in these projects were individual skits and pantomimes; group skits and pantomimes; play cuttings presented in the auditorium; and participation in the Thanksgiving Assembly, Forensic Contest, Senior Play, and Fantasy.

Professional plays and college plays provided educational and rewarding aspects. Among the outstanding events were seeing Helen Hayes in the American Players Association's production of "The Show Off", Celeste Holm as "Mame", contemporary master of individual pantomime Marcel Marceau, and Drama Day at Western Michigan University.

In addition to the A Cappella, the Girls Glee Club, the Mixed Choir, and the Freshman Choir enabled interested students to broaden their individual musical talents, as well as their group musical talents, in gaining necessary experience for membership in a more advanced group.

These three groups participated in several events throughout the year. The Girls Glee Club took part in the Christmas Concert, Christmas Assembly and the Spring Concert. The Freshman Choir combined with the Mixed Choir for their performances in the Christmas Concert and Assembly.

Sue Foust and Jenny Yeomans gained experience, as did others, in ensemble singing. Blending of voices is heard daily in the Girls Glee Club.

Vocal Group Provides Variety Of Musical Motifs

Under the direction of Mrs. Jean Lower and accompanist Bonnie Williamson, this year's A Cappella Choir continued its superior class rating as a high school choir. With the additional assistance of student section leaders, Bette Bolton, Joan Sprowl, Bill Spear, Gary Crisher, and Tom Eden, the group was able to revitalize itself and achieve a completely new musical approach. Studying worthy and meritable musical literature and working beyond the call of duty enabled the choir to excel in technique and performance.

The A Cappella also sponsored a scholarship for members attending summer music camps and clinics of their choice. The fund was financed by special performances given during the year.

The choir performed throughout the year beginning with the Homecoming assemblies and including the Madrigal Festival, the Christmas concert and assembly, the Solo and Ensemble Contest at Kalamazoo, the annual Choir Concert in March, an All-School Concert, the Kalamazoo Festival featuring solos and ensembles and concluding with bac-calaureate and graduation exercises.

ORCHESTRA

Class A Strings Perform At Concerts, Festivals

Under the direction of Mr. Douglas Jones, advisor-director, and Alice Hammond, president, the members of the orchestra improved their musical ability by attending numerous festivals and clinics throughout the year. The first two of these events were the String Concert and the Thanksgiving Assembly in November. February events included the Solo-Ensemble at Western Michigan University, and the Winter Concert at Lakeview. In March, the District Orchestra, hosted by Lakeview, and the All-Star Orchestra Festivals were attended. Last on the agenda was the State Festival held at Battle Creek Central in April.

In addition to membership of the Lakeview Orchestra, Syd Frost, Alice Hammond, and Bill Sherwood belong to the Battle Creek Symphony; Val Heywood and Sherwood are members of the Kalamazoo Junior Symphony; thirteen other members belong to the Battle Creek Junior Symphony.

A new addition to Lakeview's faculty this year is Mr. Douglas Jones, orchestra instructor.

BANDS, MAJORETTES AND FLAG GIRLS

Musicians Produce High Notes, High Spirit

MARCHING BAND

Participation was the key word of this year's Marching Band. The band took part in Band Day at Western Michigan University in September, the Marching Contest at Marshall in October, the Winter Concert at Lakeview in January, Solo and Ensemble Contest at Kalamazoo in February, Spring Concert at Lakeview in April, and the Tulip Festival at Holland in May.

Mr. Carl Moore, director, and Nancy Anderson, band president, lead the group in providing musical accompaniment for pep assemblies, football games, basketball games and many other special events.

MAJORETTES

The majorettes contributed to band leadership, also. They perform at football games, parades, and concerts to develop their marching skills. As an additional feature, the senior majorettes presented a fire-baton routine at the East Lansing football game on October 20.

SPARTAN BAND

The Spartan Band was seen "following in the footsteps" of the Marching Band this year. This group improved their musical ability by much experience. The experience was gained by performing at the Homecoming and Everett football games, Band Day at the University of Michigan in September, the V.A. Hospital on Armed Forces Day, Winter Concert in January, and the Spring Concert in April.

Mr. Moore energetically plays the tuba at football games, adding to the band's spirit.

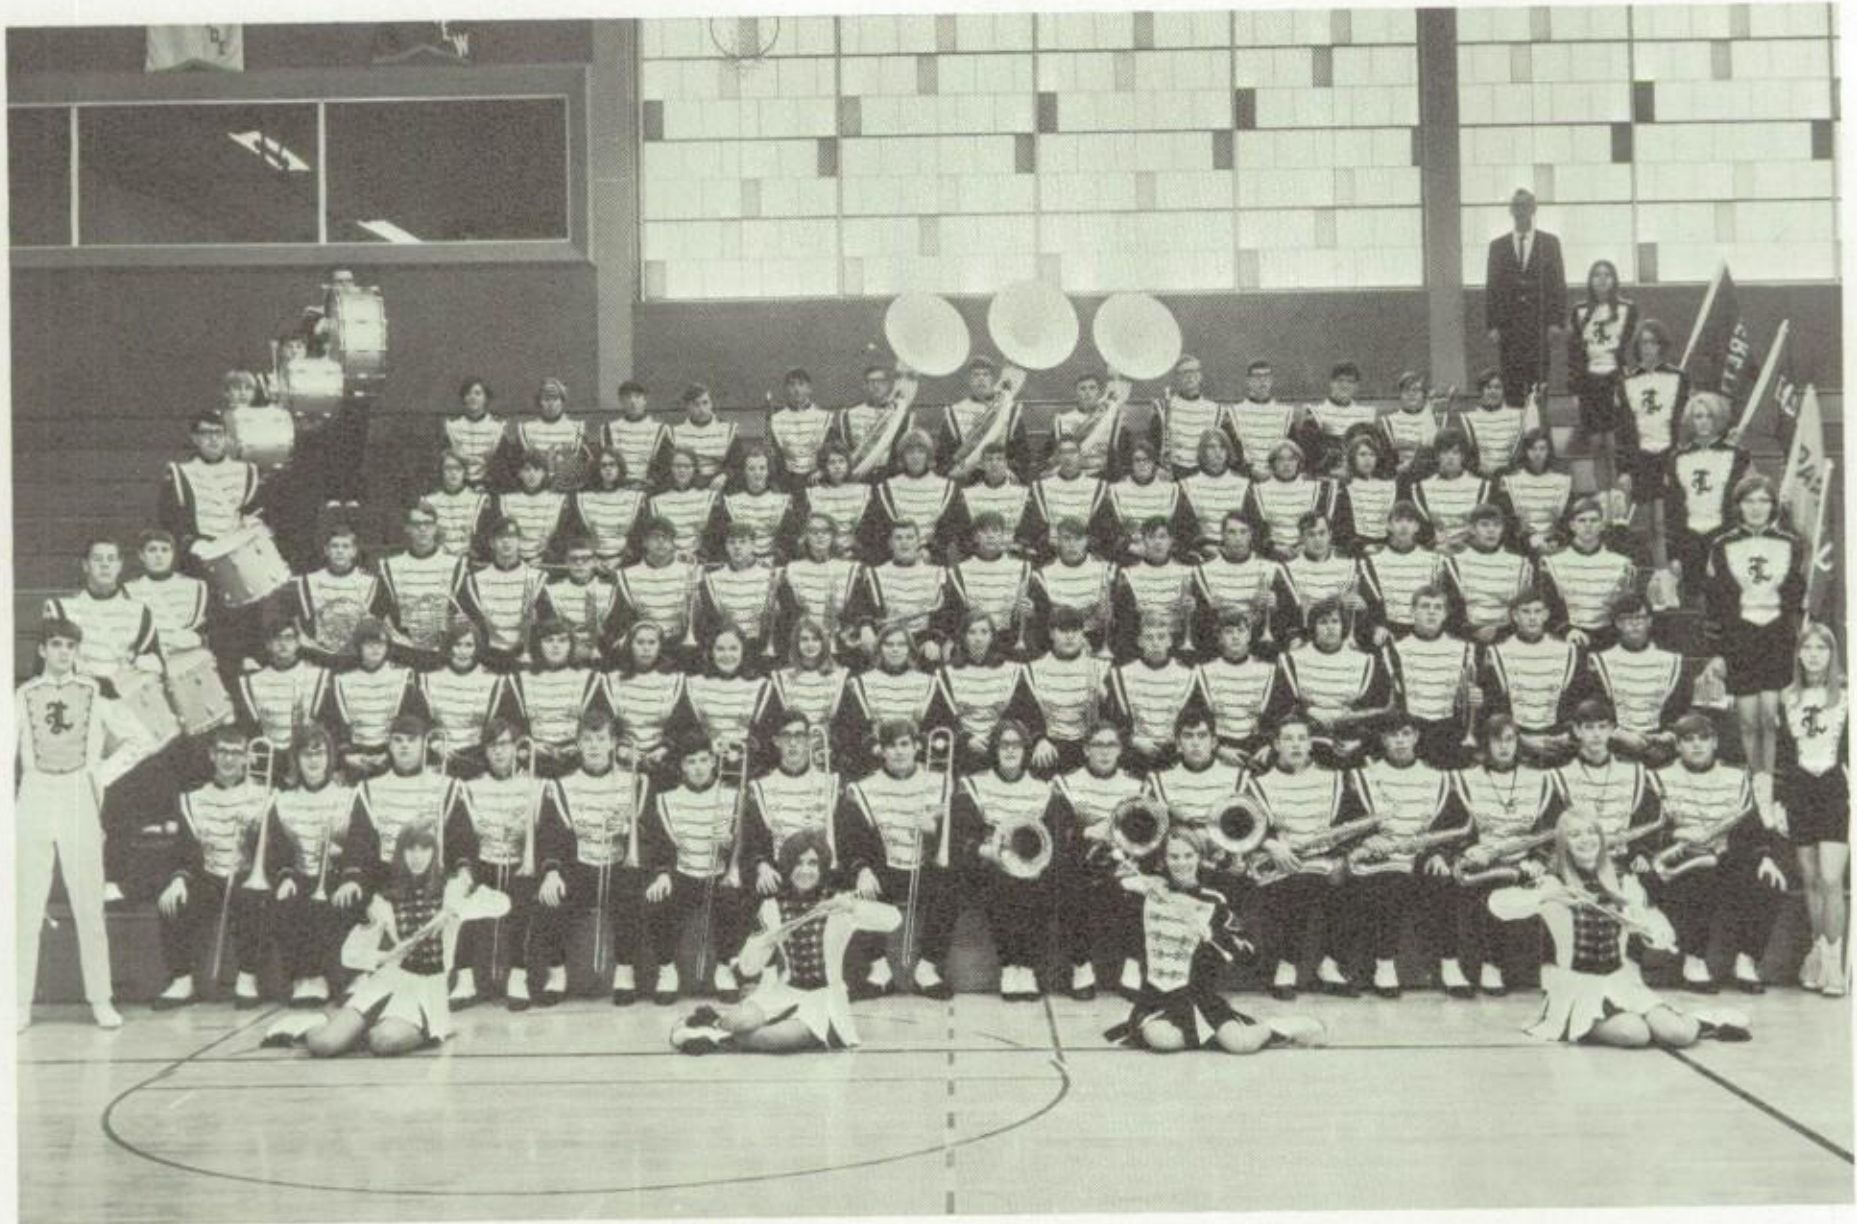

Head majorette Sandy Nulf, and majorettes Karen Barr, Roberta Guntern and Tricia Chill led the marching band on the new athletic field at football games.

The Flag-Girls who performed along with the majorettes and band during half-time were Lunice Alagia, Cathy Fowler, Peg Moffit, alternate; Sally Handley and Carole Chill. Not pictured is Mary Salomon, alternate.

Club Combines Sports, Fun

The Girl Date Boy dance was the highlight of the Girls Athletic Association's activity this year. The theme of the dance was "Summertime" highlighted by a carousel. The members of G.A.A. sponsored both Mom's and Dad's night, which gave the parents of the girls an opportunity to challenge their daughters at basketball and volleyball. The club planned a volleyball sport's day and an awards banquet.

Several members took part in a State Leadership Clinic where girls learned vocational activities taught by professional teachers and which are not offered in schools. The girls also formed the first high school girls basketball teams at Lakeview, the Cherubs and Spartanettes, which play other area basketball teams.

SPARTAN SWIM SOCIETY

Organization Splashes For Fun

A unique organization in Lakeview is our Spartan Swim Society. Under the direction of Mr. Dave Diget, advisor, and Charley Ryan, president, the members improved their understanding of water sports, instruction in water safety, fun, and exercise. Members promoted the Aqua Sprites and the swimming team, and held a lecture series.

Events this year included sponsoring a dance, taking a trip to Lake Michigan in May, and raising money for the Athletic Department.

AQUA SPRITES

Pledge Program Enables New Members To Gain Experience

Aqua Sprites, a unique all-girls club at Lakeview, improves co-ordination and rhythm through development of swimming skills and synchronization plus providing public entertainment in the Spring with its annual water show, Mrs. Delores Hepler, advisor, and Cynthia Spalding, production director, guided the club in practices held for two hours every week.

A new feature of Aqua Sprites this year was initiating a different membership program. The traditional fifty members, were selected on the basis of tryouts held in the Fall and seven alternates who filled vacancies within the club. The new program included a pledge club of twenty girls who were taught how to write numbers and design costumes for the show. In the future, a girl must have been a pledge for at least one year before becoming a regular member.

Spirit And Enthusiasm Keynote Lakeview's Largest

The Pep Club is currently the largest organization in Lakeview, with a membership of over 500. Its purpose is to promote school spirit through participating and supporting school activities. This promotion of school spirit is attained by making locker signs and posters for the cafeteria, learning cheers at monthly meetings and at pep assemblies, planning pep assemblies, supporting our teams at home and away games, and presenting a gift to the school.

Purple And White Pep Displayed By Varsity

The varsity and reserve cheerleaders attended Camp All American, the largest cheerleading camp in the Midwest, located at Hart, Michigan, shortly after summer dismissal. The varsity squad obtained first place honors; the reserves ranked fourth and Lorraine Christensen placed third in individual cheerleading at the camp.

The varsity returned to Camp All America to compete with the other national finalists. Their triumph ended with the title and trophies of National Champion Cheerleaders—ranked first over all other squads.

Senior Varsity Cheerleaders, Judy Johnson, Jan Pearse and Ann Morse wear their purple traveling suits to promote school spirit on the day of the game.

Promoting spirit at freshman games were Mary Jo Hayes, Debbie Faletich, Jill Parker, captain; Julie Mitchell, and Barb Kellems.

The backbone of Lakeview's spirit rests in the reserve squad; Sparty, Dan Birch; manager, Sharon Barber; the varsity squad; manager, Allison Avery; advisor, Miss Cecelia Chipley and the freshman squad.

Lettermen Raise Funds To Aid School Projects

To Aid School Projects

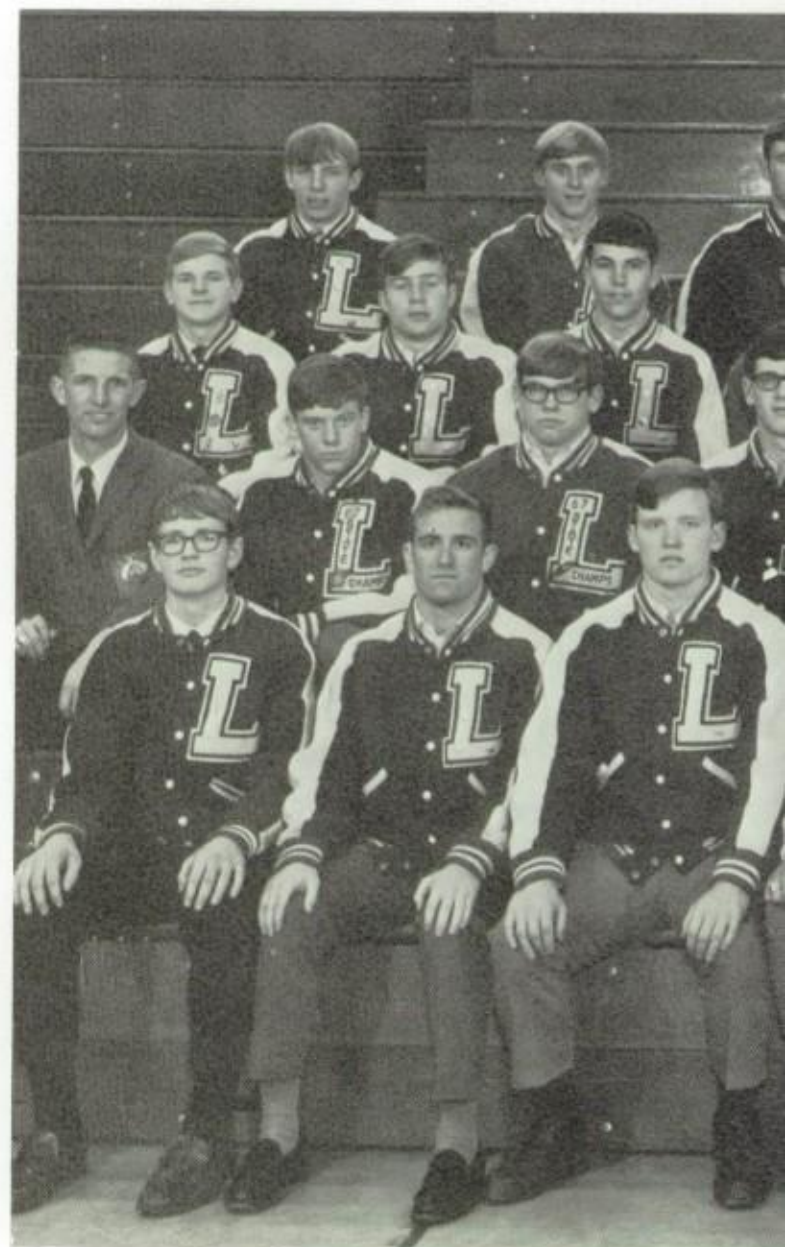

Under the supervision of advisors, Mr. Charles Stroup, Mr. James Hamilton and Mr. Glenn Lawrence and president Wayne Piggush, Lakeview's L-Club provided fellowship and recreation for club members.

Boys earning a letter in any high school sport and who abide by athletic rules qualified for the lettermen's club.

To achieve its goals and purposes as a club the group met once every week. By organizing and holding the tennis court dances during the summer, the L-Club purchased a seven-man driving sled. This gift was presented to the football team in an interest to help the linemen work together better and thus improve the team. In actuality the L-Club spent as much money as any of the other large clubs this year. The group also set an amazing first in Lakeview's history of bake sales—auctioning pizzas in the cafeteria during the lunch hours which proved to be very profitable.

Traditionally, the club takes a trip during the Spring, and this year, arrangements were made to go to Silver Lake.

Planning the L-Club meetings and activities was the duty of this year's L-Club officers. Serving on the executive board was Wayne Piggush, president; Denny Phelps, vice-president; Jim Barclay, sergeant-at-arms; Phil Levine, treasurer, and Gary Everest, secretary.

Phil Levine and Kelley Seymour auction pizzas that were made by members for a bake sale.

Loyal Spartan spirits were boosted this season with the opening of Spartan Memorial Field. The student body joined with the school administration and parent committees to make the rapid construction a total success.

Highlighting the year was the admission of Ann Arbor Huron to the South Central Conference and Lakeview's first Wrestling Invitational. As Lakeview expands its enrollment each year, it increases in school spirit and team participation, leading the Spartans to "Total Triumph."

The coaches, players, and spectators consider the 1967 football season a success that was not demonstrated by a 2-6 losing record. The season was accented by the annual Purple and White game held on the new Spartan Memorial Field, September 14. Lakeview's first conference win since 1961 highlights a major triumph this year when the Spartans totalled 328 yards rushing over Ann Arbor Huron. The coaches and players consider the first touchdown ever scored over Lansing Everett a significant feature of the season.

The season was climaxed by the annual football banquet held November 15, with parents, coaches, and players present. Gary Everest, senior letterman, received the "Most Valuable" award for his outstanding running and pass defending. Andy Peck, senior letterman, was awarded the "Sportsmanship" award in recognition of his attitude both on and off the playing field.

The banquet was concluded with Coach McNally's announcement that next year's tri-captains are Dick Barker, Chuck Burnham, and Mike Stroup.

Frosh And J.V. Teams Show Promise

Freshman offense surges for a sizable gain.

The 3-5 record of this year's Junior Varsity hardly reveals the determination and spirit with which they fought. The Little Spartans were led through their highly competitive schedule by Head Coach Jim DeWeerd and his assistant, Butch Perry.

The reserve coaches felt their line was anchored by Jerry Heaton, a fine defensive standout. Ken Riess and Tom Mayhall led the J.V.'s outstanding backfield.

Coach Jerry Hepler and his freshmen gridgers had their season highlighted with their first conference encounter ever played by the frosh. They came from behind to tie the Trojans of East Lansing, 7-7.

The freshman football record was 4-1-1 with the only loss coming from a fired up Portage Northern team. Brad Bishop, offensive back, and Jim Hagemann, defensive lineman, were cited as the frosh standouts by Coach Hepler and Assistant Carroll Jensen. The coaches were also impressed with defensive end John Seltenreich's improvement toward the season's close.

Cagers Break Scoring Record

They burned the court from the first jumpball against Marshall through the last regular season game against the Jackson Parkside Eagles.

At the end of 17 hard-fought games, Lakeview came through with a record of 12-6. Five out of the six defeats were at the hands of teams ranked in the Top Ten in the State. Against Lansing Everett, in a crucial game Lakeview fought to overcome a 14-point deficit and emerged victorious, 58-57.

Beating undefeated Sturgis, 74-63 was a proud moment for Coach Hamilton and the Spartans. They came from behind to beat Parkside.

Coach Hamilton said of the 1967-68 basketball team, "This year's success was a result of the dedication, desire, and hustle of the boys. They believed a team that WON'T BE BEAT, CAN'T BE BEAT."

Top honors were awarded at the banquet. Voted by the team were the following: Most Valuable, Andy Peck; Sportsmanship, Gary Everest; Captain, Wayne Piggush; Most Improved, Don Roberts.

Larry Blankenship was high scorer for the freshmen with 17 points for an 11 point average. High rebounder for the frosh was Doug Crosby who averaged ten rebounds per game.

LHS Hosts First Invitational, Finishes Second

This year's Spartan grapplers have contributed a great deal toward making wrestling one of the most successful sports in the school. The total win-loss record was accomplished through hard work by Coach Jerry Hepler, the boys' team work, and the assistant coaches, Mr. Jim Ritters and Mr. DeLand Davis.

The grapplers had a long hard season through which they showed real spirit and determination. Indicative of their fine showings were the tournaments. The Spartans took firsts in both the Kalamazoo Invitational and the Hastings Invitational. They also came in fourth in the Lansing Invitational.

Lakeview hosted its first wrestling tournament, the Spartan Invitational, in which they captured second place.

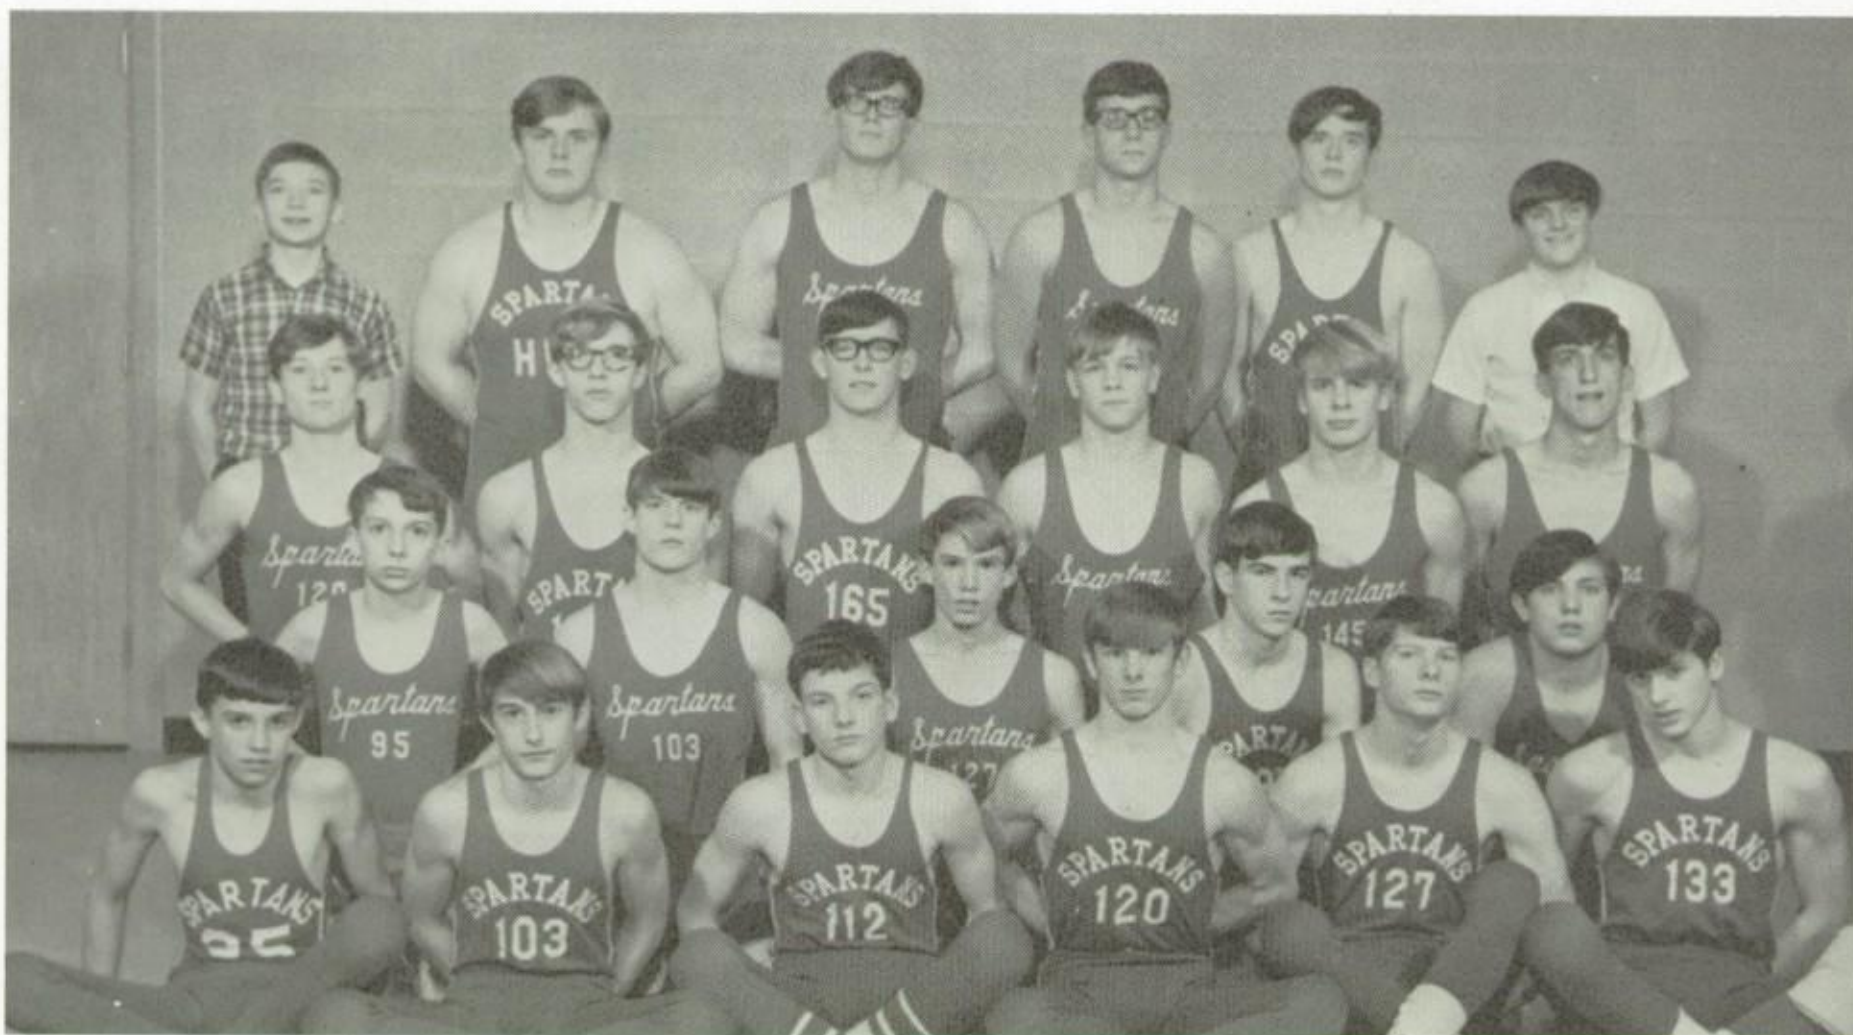

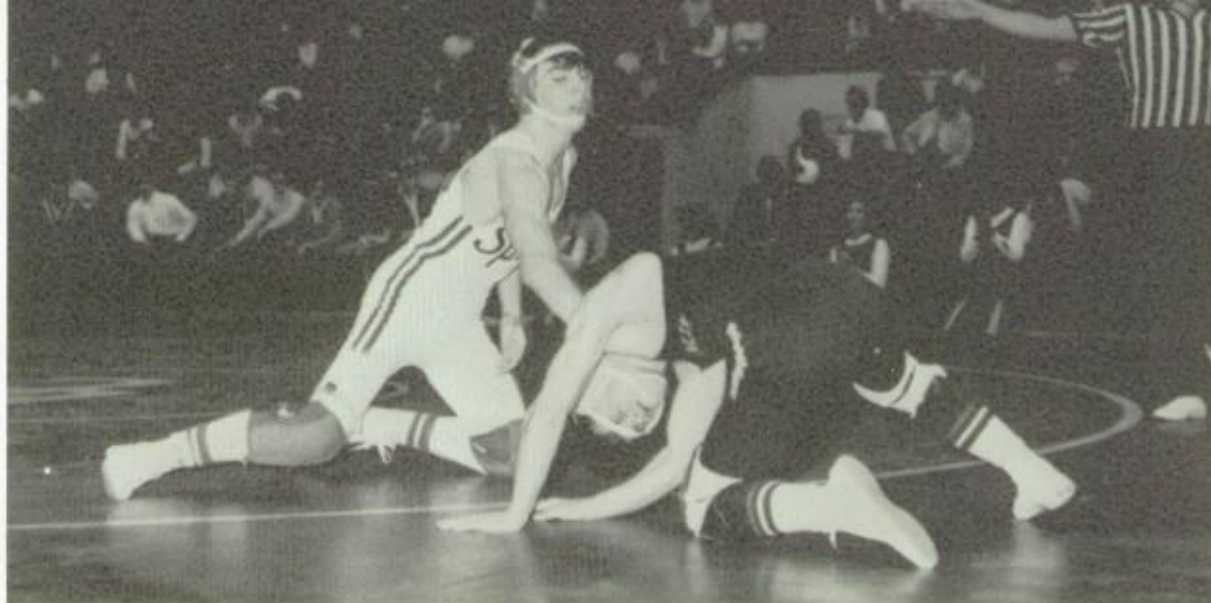

In the conference meet, the wrestlers finished second with 64 points, which enabled them to win the S.C.C. wrestling crown. The wrestlers took the conference with 18 team points.

Individual finishers in the conference meet were senior Rex Bruns and junior Chuck Burnham, 154 pounder, captured individual firsts. Denny Phelps took second in the 138-pound weight class. Dick Leibert, in the 127-pound weight class and Tim Miller, in the 165-pound weight class, also captured seconds for the Spartans.

The Spartans placed seventh in the regional meet with 37 points. Denny Phelps led the team with a second and participated in the state meet. Other Spartan places were Rex Bruns with a third and Jim Squier and Dan Cornwell placing fourth.

Reserve Grapplers Finish First Undefeated Season

Reserve coach Jim Ritter and his fine group of wrestlers are a team for which Lakeview wrestling fans can be proud. It is the first reserve team to go undefeated through a 12 meet season.

Ed Longbons led the reserves with a fine 14-0-0 won-tied-loss record. He also led the team with 8 pins. Bob Roberts was second with 6 pins. Steve Brownell finished a strong season with a 12-0-2 record.

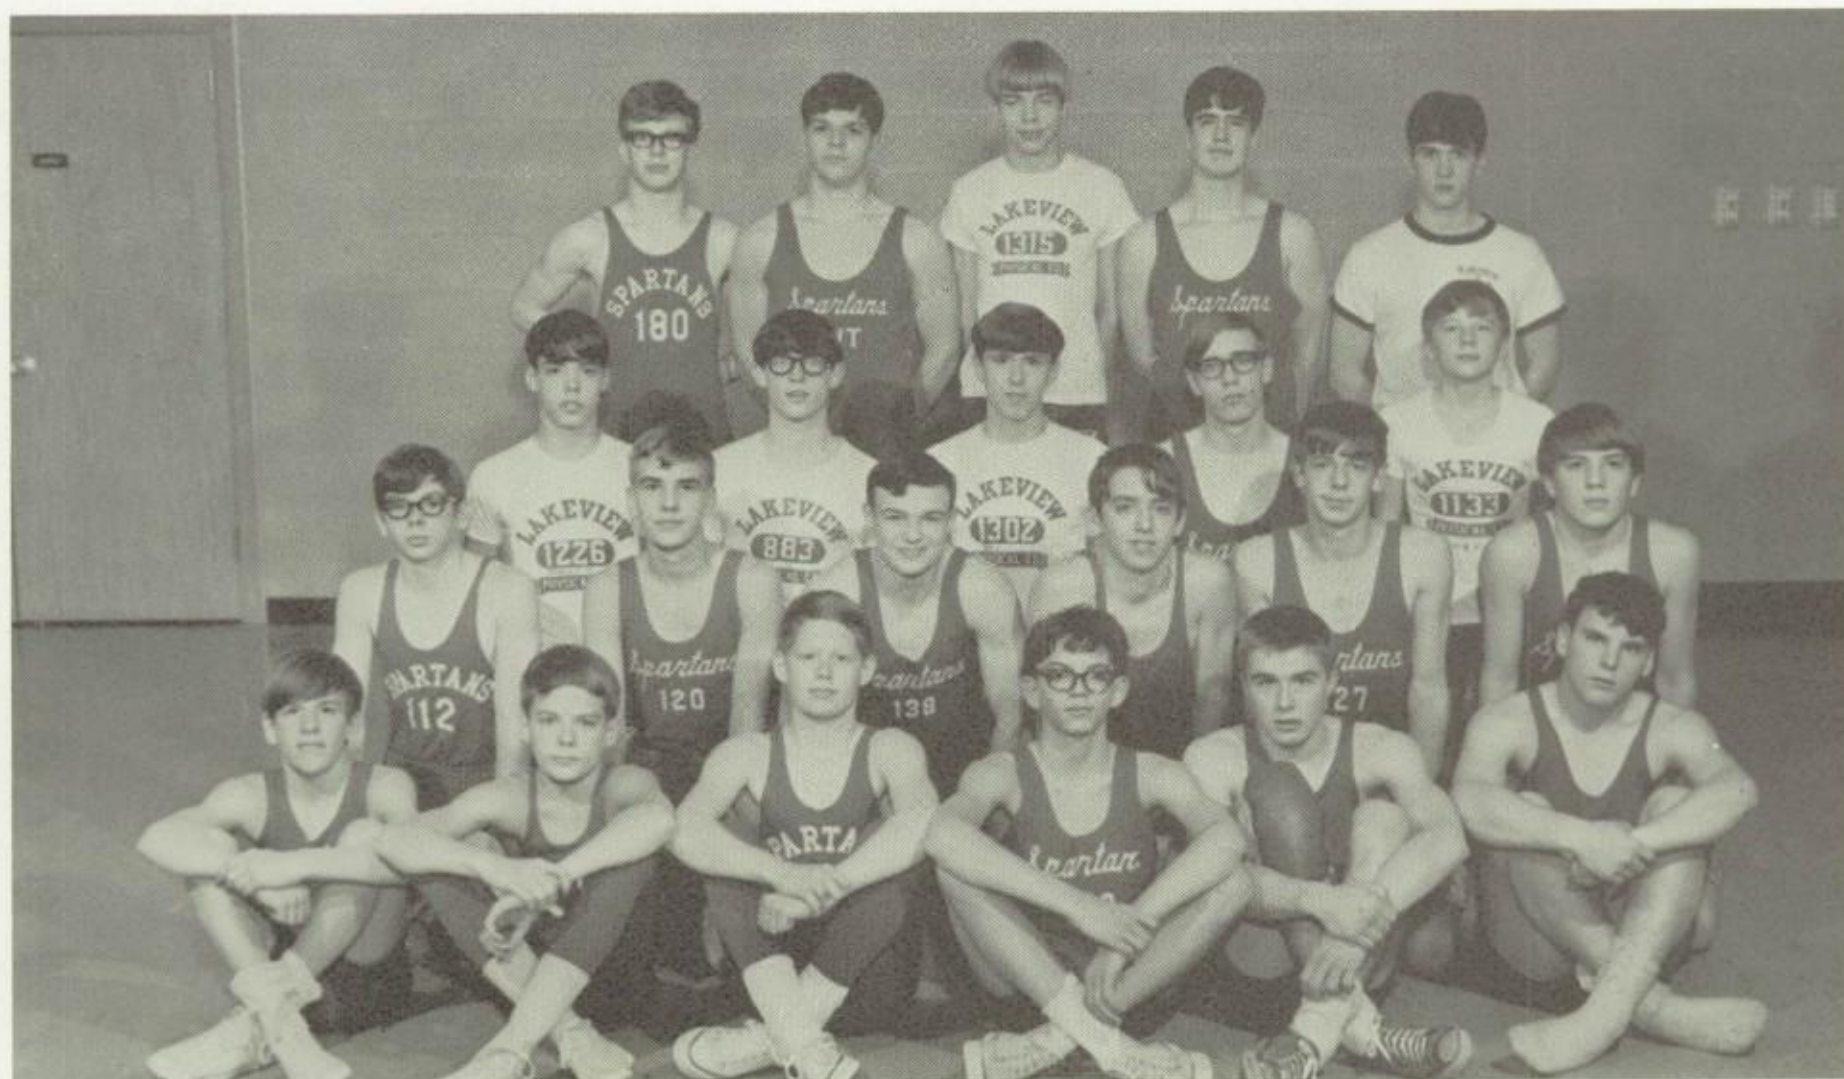

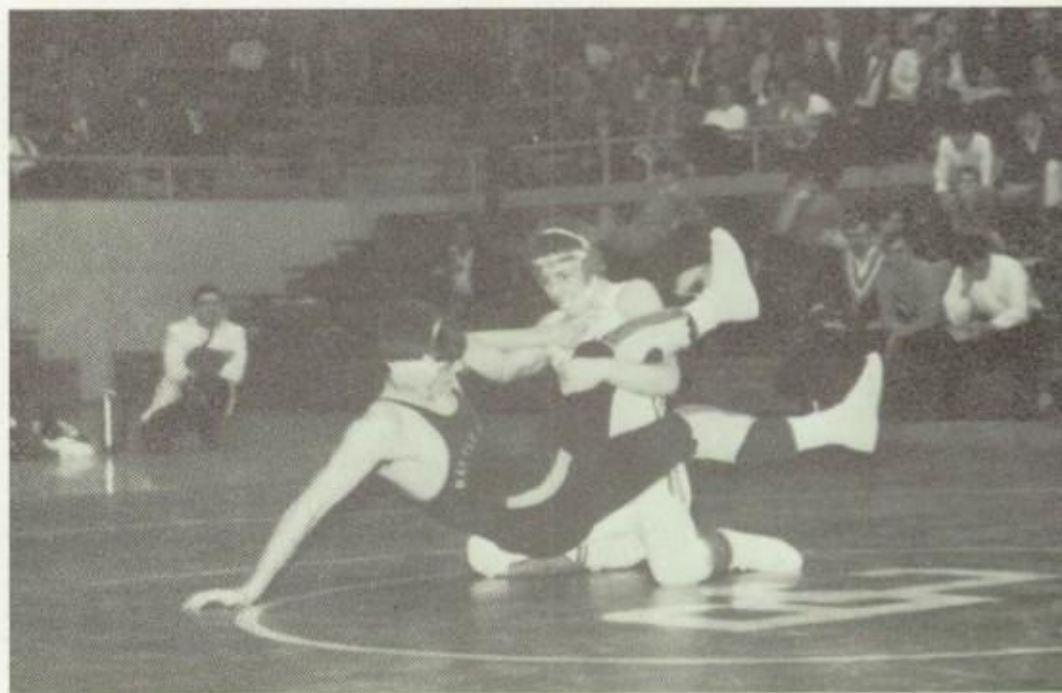

The reserves made it look easy as they scored a 56-0 triumph over Loy Norrix. They also had a very impressive record over their conference foes, which promises a bright future for wrestling at Lakeview High.

Twenty-two freshman boys completed the year's rigid program that is essential for good wrestlers. The frosh had a 6-2 record including a win over a tough Hastings opponent.

Reserve, Frosh Achieve Success Through Experience

The Reserve Tankers concluded a triumphant season of six wins and no losses. The string of six straight victories prepares the Little Spartans for a successful future. LHS Baseball Team Optimistic About Coming Season

Gary Everest, Phil Levine, and Dick Barker are a few of the returning lettermen hoping to make the team.

This year's baseball team will be lead by a fine group of lettermen. Returning for another year are senior infielders Craig Wall, Phil Levine, and junior Dick Barker; in the outfield, Gary Everest; and on the mound, Jim Miller.

The coaches and players are optimistic about their season and say that chances are good for the SCC baseball crown. Last year's team placed third in the South Central Conference with a record of 5-3.

Craig Wall demonstrates his baseball prowess.

Head coach Marty Ball and assistant Jim Hamilton anticipate a winning season.

Tennis, a growing sport at Lakeview, demands patience, determination, and dedication, not to mention natural ability. Although it seems to be more of an individual sport, co-operation is also required, especially for the doubles competition.

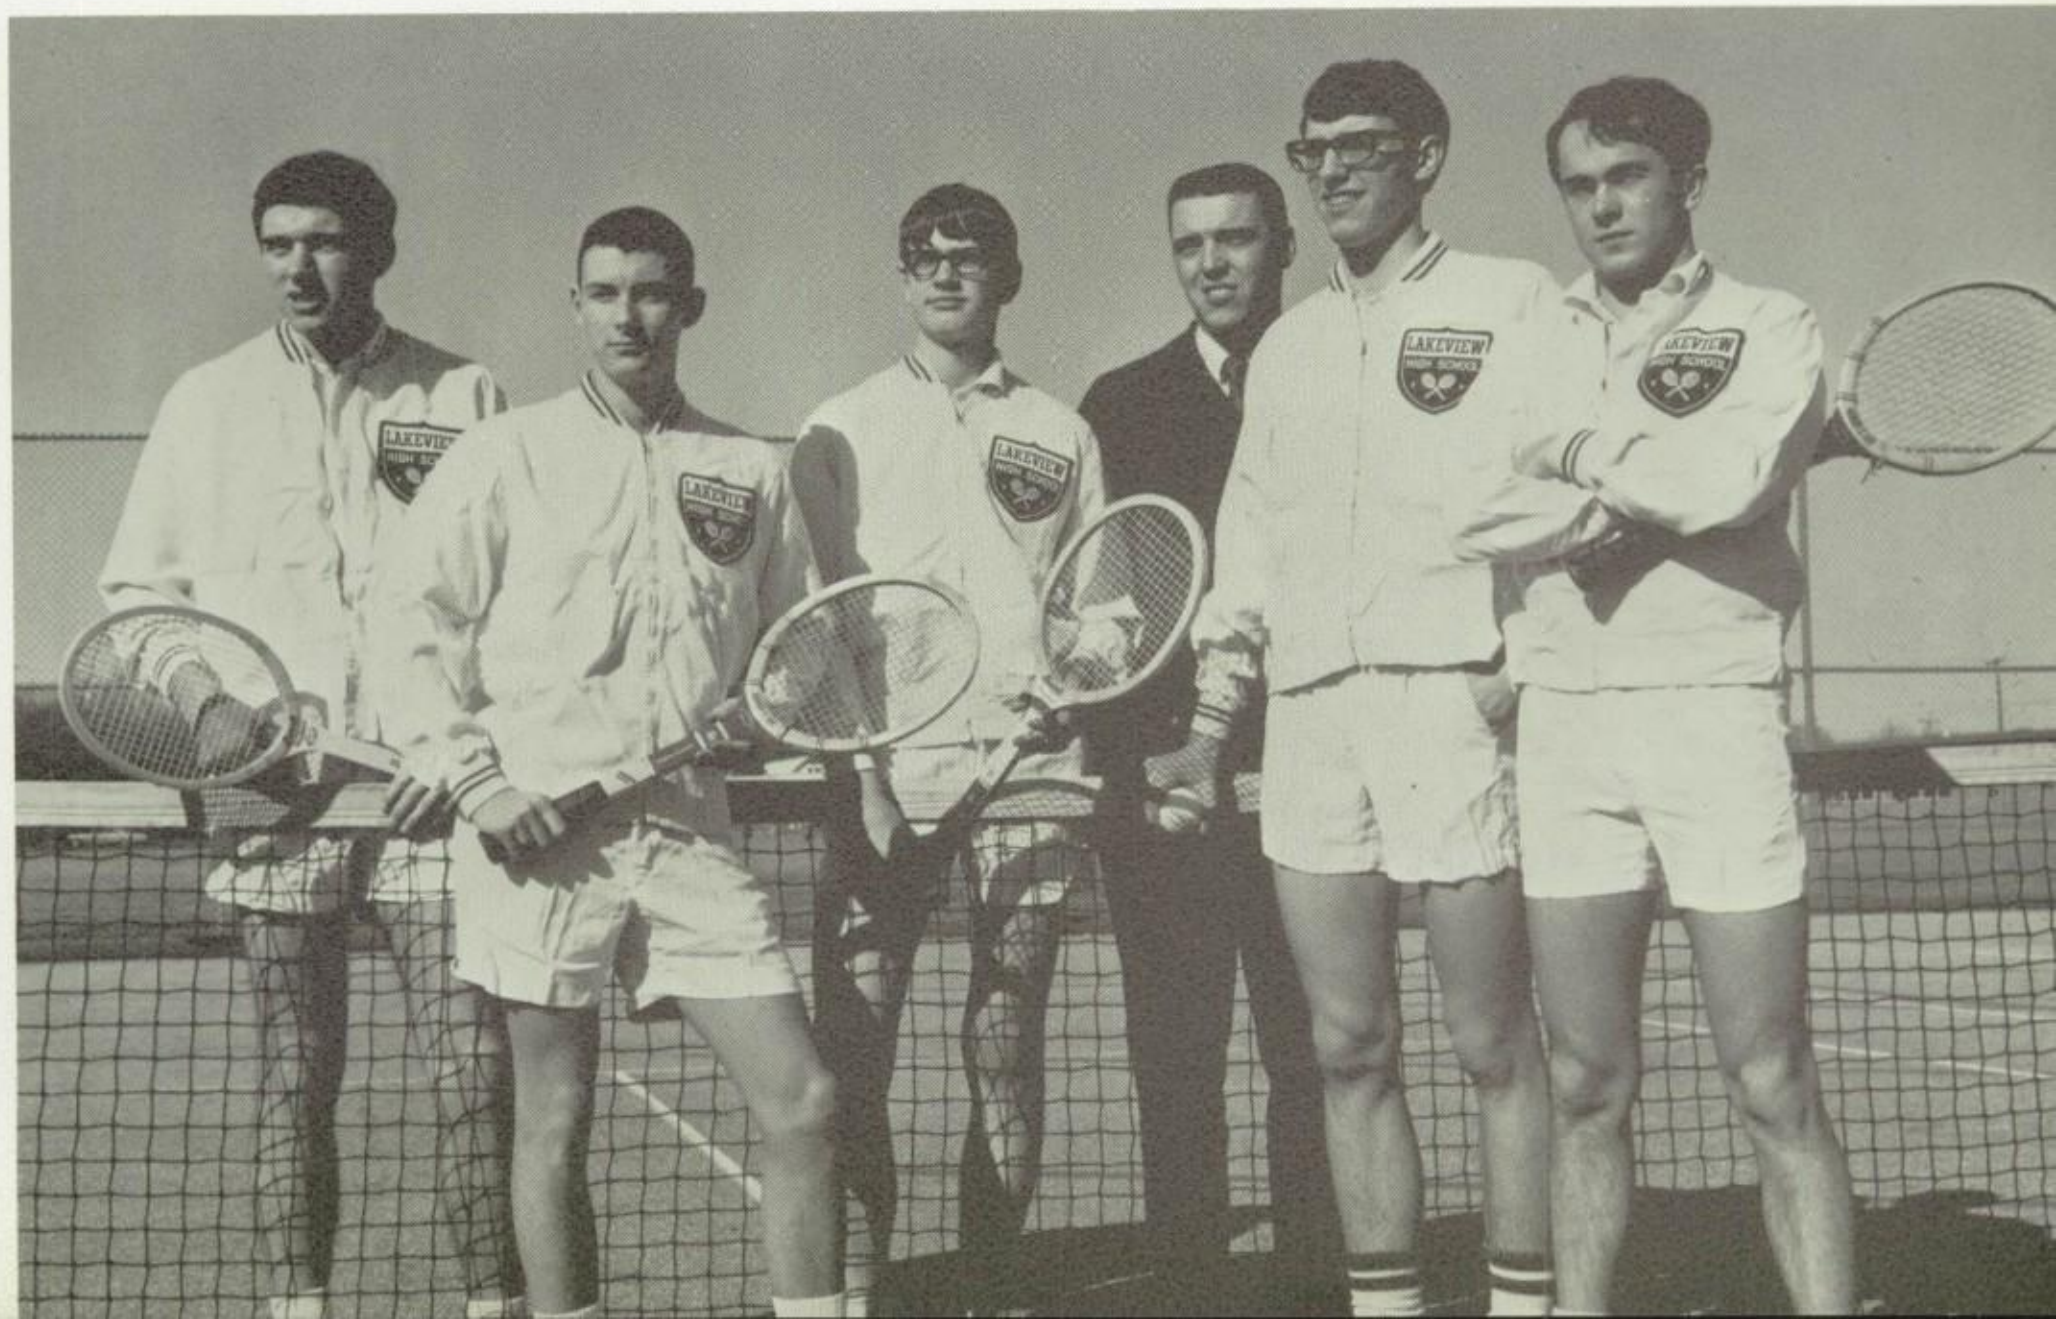

Returning lettermen, seniors Kelley Seymour, Randy Williamson, Don Roberts, Larry Edgerton, and junior Jeff Jackson are hopeful of the tennis conference crown.

Last year, the netters came in a close second. The past record of 10-4 provides a challenge for this year's netters.

Coach Larry Laughlin watches his team in early season practice.

Spartan Netters Charge Into Challenging Year

Linksmen Drive For SCC Crown

The SCC Golf Crown has been captured every year by Jackson Parkside. The Spartans came close to defeating the Eagles in a sudden death playoff which they lost by one stroke. Lakeview plans to end this domination when they go for the crown this year.

Coach Glen Lawrence and Than Watkin, captain and returning letterman, will lead the linksmen to victory. With the efforts of the other two returning lettermen, Chuck Burnham and Tom Markell, and the rest of the team, the linksmen expect a triumphant season.

Tom Markell, returning letterman, shows promise by exhibiting good form.

Spartan Cindermen Strive For Victory

The 1968 track team coached by Charlie Stroup and led by co-captains Doug Sholes and Andy Peck is looking forward to a spectacular season. This year's team includes the unusual potential of fourteen returning lettermen of which seven are seniors. The Biggest competitive meets are against Kalamazoo Loy Norrix, East Lansing, Jackson Parkside and cross town rival Battle Creek Central Bearcats.

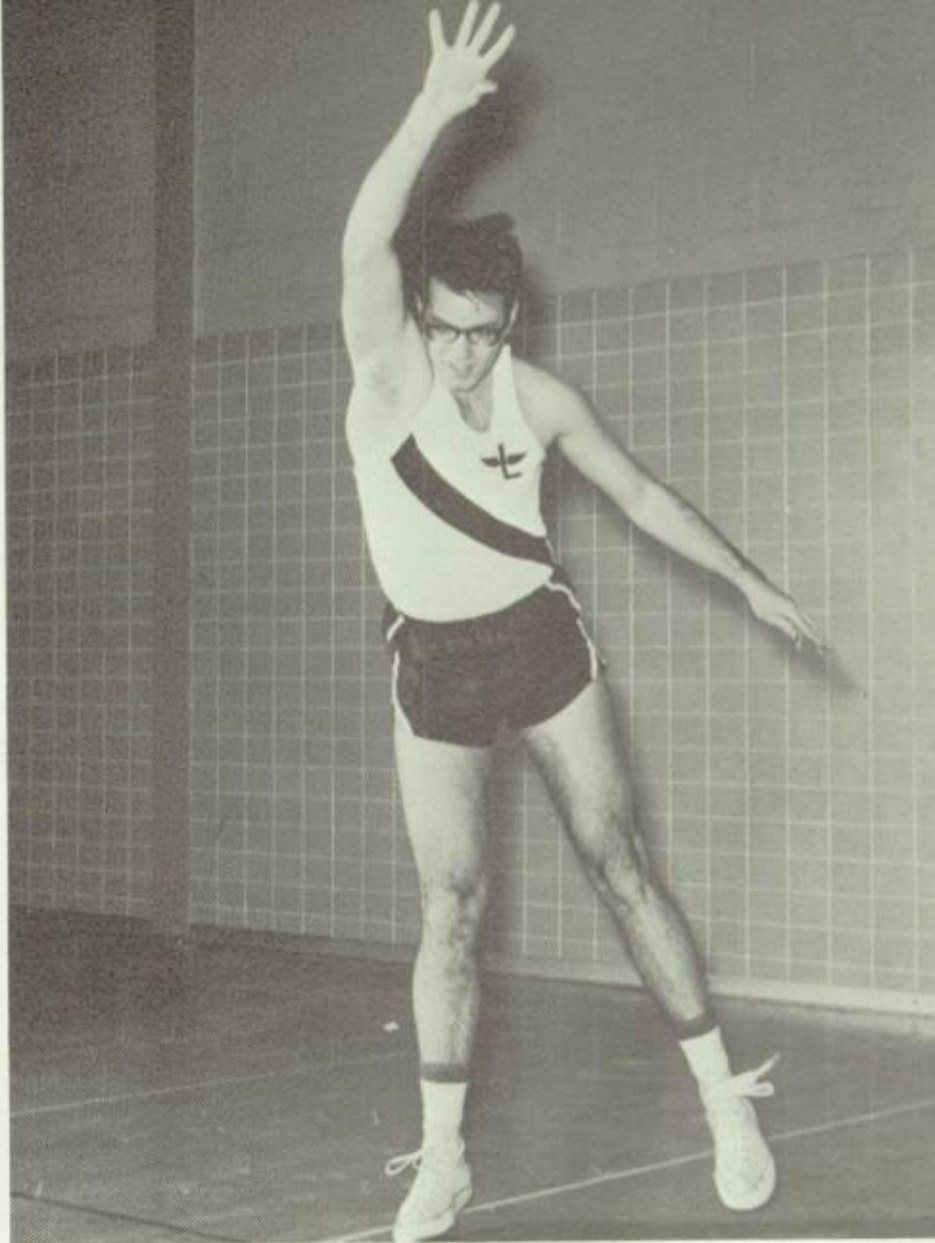

At the beginning of the season, Coach Stroup said, "The mark of a champion team is the willingness to make a sacrifice. With a little determination and sacrifice, the season should be a total success."

Jim Barclay and Andy Peck, senior hurdlers practice for coming season.

Doug Sholes, Craig Dove, Bob Kelly and Phil Squire, senior sprinters practice fast starts.

Lakeview's freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are already building a strong foundation for their future days at Lakeview. The Freshmen with their participation in Student Council, the sophomores with their help on the pep assemblies, and the juniors with their highly successful prom—these actions have revealed to all that the future of Lakeview is in good hands.

Initial Year Builds Responsible Frosh

During their first few days at Lakeview, most of the freshmen could be recognized by the school map in their hands, but this map was soon replaced by a permanent one in their minds. This was the map of responsibility, awareness, and the map of their upcoming activities at Lakeview. They proved themselves when they made a strong showing in the Youth for Understanding drive and in making their Homecoming decorations.

Under the direction of Mr. LeRoy Shook, class advisor, the freshmen are well prepared for their future school years and have been given a strong foundation for upper class activities.

Freshman class officers are Dave Christman, secretary; Jim Bidlecome, president; JoLaine Reiersen, vice-president; and Barb Poertner, treasurer.

Ambitious Sophomores Build Class Treasury

The sophomore class has worked long and hard to achieve distinction. They sponsored a community paper drive, sold pins, and managed the snack bar at sports events to add to their class fund, which amounted to a combined total of over $400. They received a third in the Youth for Understanding drive with 91 per cent.

Under the direction of Mr. Harry Carruth, the sophomores proved they are an enterprising group.

Sophomore class officers are Bob Roberts, vice-president; Dave Hunt, president; Kathy Taylor, secretary; and Mary Zheutlin, treasurer.

After completing almost all of his schooling, a senior is responsible for himself and his actions and has the incentive to do better than ever before. A senior is sensitive to the world and people around him. He is forward-looking yet reflective about past experiences. A senior is open-minded and curious to know all he can. A senior is enthusiastic about his future and the futures of those around him.

Seniors

Seniors See Many Changes

Guntern, Lynn Brophy, Nancy Garberick, Katy Folkmier, Nancy Anderson, Linda DeWaard, Kathy Durkin, Tricia Chill, Terry Zheutlin, Melinda Philipps, Janice Berg, Julie Jones. Missing are Kathy Collins, Barb Fesmire, Ann Libby, Barb Marineau. Beta Honor Roll, Rows 3-9.

Special memories belong to the class of '68. These seniors were the first to complete the school program beginning in 1962 which moved the 6th grade into junior high and the 9th grade into senior high. They were also the first class to receive the pep jug two years in a row, and win the Y.F.U. banner in their freshman and sophomore years. The senior gridgers were the first to play football on the Spartan Memorial Field. Their junior prom, "Paradise Lost", was one their class, as well as others, will remember as one of the best. Most of all, they will remember their senior year; their last Homecoming Dance, the night Queen Ann was crowned, Senior Play "Plain and Fancy", their last Fantasy, the foreign exchange students, Senior Week, Senior Prom, and Graduation.

The most outstanding senior girl is Barb Upston who received the D.A.R. Good Citizen Award for her dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Four senior boys were chosen by Mr. Thomas and counselors to become Junior Rotarians. Their responsibilities were to meet local businessmen and to give them an insight into Lakeview's activities, as well as provide for an interchange of ideas. They are Gary Mallernee and Don Roberts, missing from picture are Jim Barclay and Dick Leibert.

One of the purposes of the National Merit Test is to identify able and promising students and to encourage them to continue their education. The six semi-finalists who received recognition were seniors Dave Montague, Keith Hull, Terry Zheutlin, Larry Kaiser, Pam Corington, and Jack Powers. Absent is Aimee Sugden.

The Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition Test which was open to juniors and seniors had among its finalists three seniors, Gene Kubasiak, Larry Kaiser, and Roger Beebe.

Gene Demarest completes the noon hour routine by putting his tray away.

Table head, Dennis Broxholm, eats with fellow seniors, Dan Fischer, Roger Beebe, Joe Koerner, and Steve Barricklow.

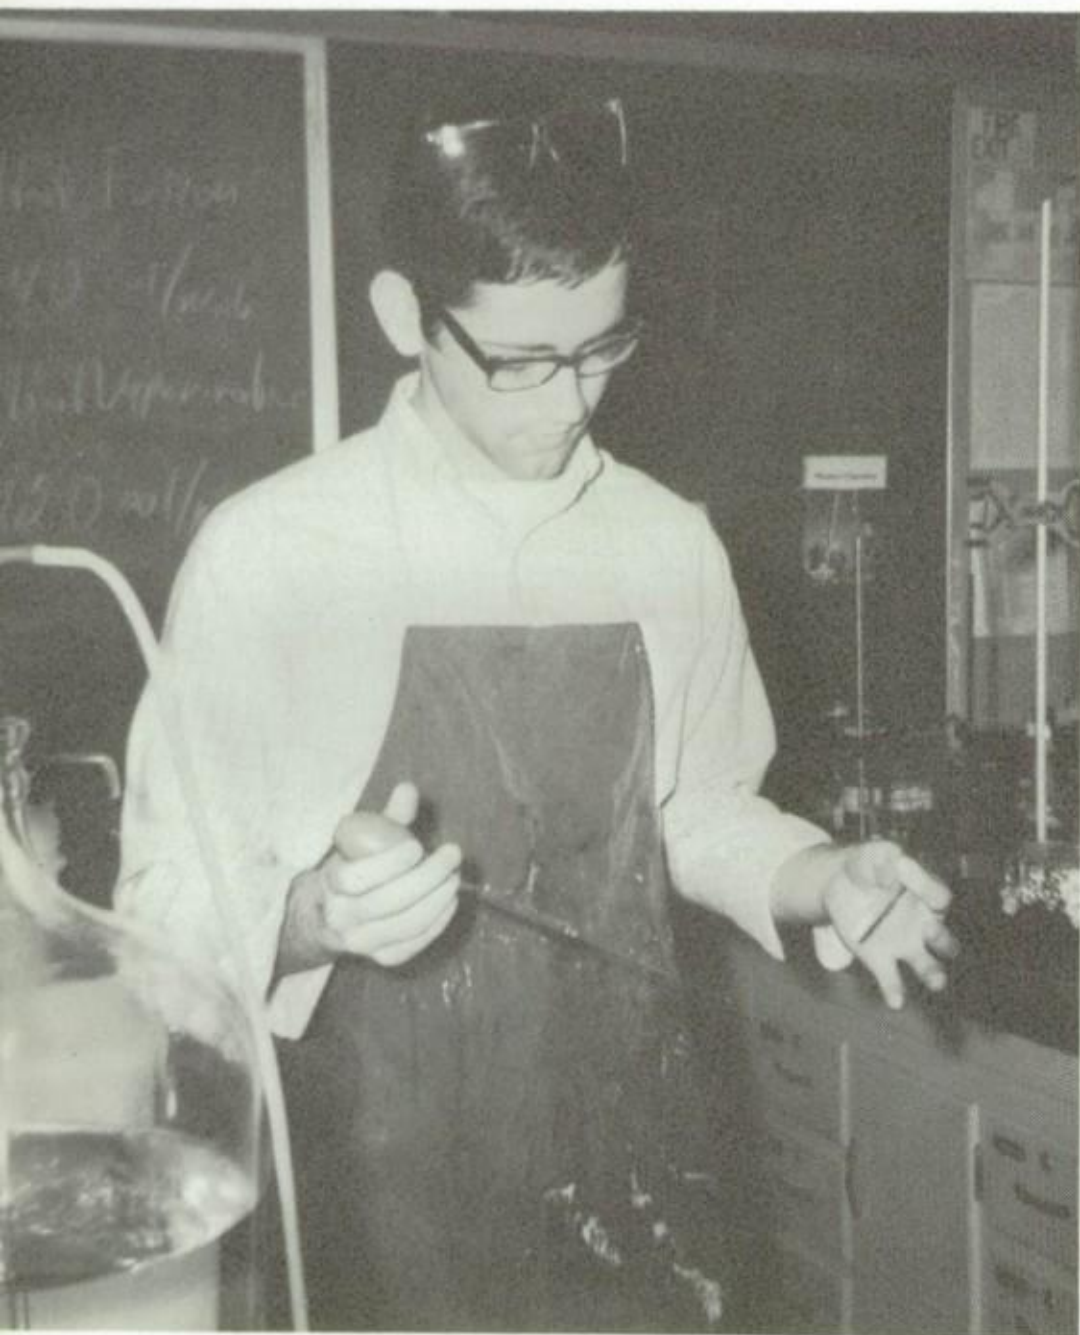

Sharon Lee, caught in the act of primping, is not really amused with the photographer.

Cathy Strand tells Ann Morse to get busy at the clean-up after the Homecoming Dance.

Keith Hull enjoys the benefits of extra lab time in advanced chemistry.

The new 2:35 bells bring happy smiles to Debbie Doss and Linda Hubbard.

Bill Mahoney seems to have lost his enthusiasm for "The Brothers Karamozov", as he catnaps in the library.

Then They Were Seniors...

Dennis Vincent seems amused at a point Lynn Bower is trying to make.

Vicki Russell takes advantage of a little free time, studying in the student center.

For the past 43 years, the business and professional people of our community have shown their loyalty to Lakeview High School in many ways. They have wholeheartedly supported activities such as homecomings, the drive for the football stadium, the proms, all of our sports, and the music department.

We would also like to express our sincere appreciation to the Senior Patrons who help finance the Log.

A prime example of an enthusiastic community member was Mr. Clem Munger. It was his firm belief that one could best aid others by giving them the opportunity to help themselves.

"The idle man does not know what it is to enjoy rest. Hard work, moreover, not only tends to give us rest for the body, but what is even more important, peace to the mind."

—Avebury.

What Makes A Good Spartan?

A good Spartan is one who plays football or girls' basketball, makes the honor roll, is active in Pep Club, paints scenery for the Fantasy, writes an editorial for the Crystal, works on junior prom decorations, makes signs for the pep assemblies, sews costumes for the senior play, works as a chemistry lab assistant, draws locker signs for the athletes, plays in the band, helps in the library, supports the club of his choice, or cheers at all the home and away games.

It takes energy and enthusiasm to be a good Spartan, but such an individual will never be troubled by the question, "What did I do in high school?"
